500 MEN ON STAY-DOWN STRIKE IN ILLINOIS MINE

Members of Progressive Local Sit Down 400 Feet Underground in Superior Coal Co. Pits Near Gillespie.

PROTEST AGAINST ADDED MACHINES

Committee of 5 Comes to Surface to Confer With National Officers—State Union Head Disapproves Workers' Action.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WILSONVILLE, Ill., May 21.—A committee of five miners, representing 500 who began a stay-down strike yesterday in the pits of the Superior Coal Co. Mine No. 4 in protest against installation of machinery which will cut down employment, came to the surface this afternoon and drove to Gillespie, Ill., to confer with national officers of the Progressive Miners of America, who have said the strike was unauthorized.

The Macoupin County mine, one of the largest in Illinois, is 40 miles northeast of St. Louis and eight miles southwest of Gillespie. Earlier in the day the five members of the strike committee announced they would continue to occupy the mine until they had gained the right "to share our work with our fellow-workers."

The strikers, they said, were crawling on blankets along the galleries of the mine, or were singing, playing cards and reading. "We have plenty of food," one said. "And many of our brothers are even better off than they were before the strike."

Joseph Ozanic, national president of the Progressive Miners, had declined to comment on what national officers might take.

Offers to Meet Workers.
F. S. Pfahler of Chicago, president of the company, declared he offered to meet a committee of the strikers at any time they desired, but they had not accepted the offer. He had no intention, he said, of using force to eject the miners, and no attempt would be made to operate the mines "for the time."

Preparations Made in Advance.
Apparently preparations had been made by families and friends to supply the men with necessities and means of recreation before the strike. At the end of the 2:30 p. m. shift yesterday, the miners announced that their fellows would yield to the demand for a pre-work program, to care for the miners whose jobs were threatened.

Wives, children and fellow members of the Progressive Miners of America, Local No. 1, flocked to the mine. In less than an hour, a crowd estimated at 2500 persons gathered. Food, warm clothing and blankets, a supply of blankets, were lowered to the men, who announced through their spokesman, John Fisher, that they were "down to stay." Only about 500 men, all more than 65 years of age and physically unfit for a pre-work program, were left on the surface.

Crowd Stays Late.
The crowd, which remained until late last night for word from the company, who communicated frequently with friends on the surface by telephone, had diminished this morning when fewer than 100 relatives and sympathizers remained on company grounds. There was interference by company officials with the movements of those on the mine.

The mine, one of four operated by the Superior Coal Co., a subsidiary of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, is equipped with modern machinery. A new derrick ventilator is believed to eliminate danger of explosion or "black dust" and the meandering galleries.

Two German Aviators Captured By Basques Sentenced to Death

Convicted of Murder by Popular Tribunal—One Warns "Germany Will Never Permit" Verdict to Be Carried Out.

By the Associated Press.
BILBAO, Spain, May 21.—Two captured German aviators were sentenced to death today on charges of military rebellion and murder.

The two officers, downed on the Basque front, were convicted by a popular tribunal of waging warfare against the Government of Spain in the forces of insurgent Gen. Francisco Franco. They are Capt. Walter Keinzel and Lieut. Gunther Schulze. Lieut. Schulze defiantly warned Basque authorities today after he was sentenced, that "Germany will never permit" them to carry out their verdict.

A Febus (governmental Spanish) Agency account of the trial said Capt. Keinzel testified he had been in the regular German army before he came to Spain voluntarily last January. Influenced by German press photographers, who convinced him that Soviet Russia was aiding the Spanish Government, Capt.

Keinzel said he enlisted to oppose the "Russian influence." He arrived at Cadiz, Spain, last Feb. 18 aboard the German steamer Hilma, which he boarded at Kiel, Germany.

His first command in Spain, he said, was an escadrille of nine war planes protecting insurgent communication lines in the sector near Talavera de la Reina, west and south of Madrid. Then he was transferred to Vitoria, insurgent base of the northern Spanish front. He said Gen. Franco's air forces there comprised 24 planes with German crews.

Lieut. Schulze testified he sailed for Spain aboard the Italian ship Conte Rosso and reached the civil war front through Portugal after disembarking at Lisbon. He was assigned first to Seville, in southwestern Spain, then was transferred to the Madrid front and later to the Basque campaign.

He, too, said he came to Spain voluntarily after two years in the German army.

42 ELECTION OFFICIALS TO BE CITED BY BOARD

Facing Dismissal for Alleged Violation of Instructions in March 12 Primary.

Forty-two election judges and clerks, the complete staffs in seven precincts, will be cited to appear before the Board of Election Commissioners to show cause why they should not surrender their commissions for alleged violations of the board's instructions in conducting the municipal primary election March 12, William H. Woodward, chairman of the board, announced today after a board meeting.

Woodward declined to disclose the names of the officials or the precincts involved, but said these would be announced next Tuesday or Wednesday when formal notices are mailed the officials involved. He also declined to disclose the nature of the charges except to say that they concerned reported violations of the board's instructions.

Woodward also said that there was no evidence of fraud insofar as making false counts of the ballots was concerned. The violations, he said, were rather failure to comply strictly with the board's instructions, and the charges to be prepared against the officials would be based on reports of voters, deputies stationed at the polls in the primary, and on the board's own examination of the tally sheets and other records filled out by the election officials themselves.

Hearings, Woodward said, would start in about two weeks and any official unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his failure to comply with board regulations at the election would be dismissed.

SPANISH CHILDREN TO BE DEPORTED

500 Refugees to Board Ship at Bordeaux for Vera Cruz.

ST. NAZAIRE, France, May 21.—Executives of the French Line said last night that 500 Spanish refugee children, and some adults, were to be deported by the liner Mexique, which will call at Bordeaux Monday on its way to Vera Cruz.

Several thousand child refugees from Bilbao have been landed recently at Bordeaux or nearby ports.

RASKOB DESCRIBES SALES TO GET OUT OF DU PONT'S DEBT

Testifies That if He Had Held on to Stocks a Week Longer He Would Have Made $300,000.

SMALL DIFFERENCE IN CHECKS 'NATURAL'

Deals Consummated Without Previous Understanding, He Says, to Establish Losses.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 21.—In his "anxiety to get out of debt" and pay off notes, John J. Raskob testified today, it was "natural" that the cross-sales of securities between him and Pierre S. du Pont, following the 1929 stock market panic, would end with only a small monetary difference one way or the other.

The Government, contending the cross-sales of blocks of stocks were fictitious and were made with a pre-arranged illegal understanding for repurchase, seeks a deficiency tax of $617,316 from Du Pont and $1,026,340 from Raskob.

In its "exhibit A," the Government's cross of all the checks exchanged in the transactions between the two industrialists, the balance in du Pont's favor after almost $300,000 had changed hands was only $46.88.

Raskob's attorney, Col. Joseph M. Hartfield, took the former chairman of the Democratic National Committee through the maze of cross-sales before turning him over to Mason B. Leming, chief of government counsel, for cross-examination.

Government's Chart. Col. Hartfield handed Raskob the elaborate chart prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and asked: "When did you first see any computation of any kind showing only a $46.88 difference in your transactions with Mr. du Pont?"

"It's been within the last year. When I saw a chart prepared by the Government, I saw it first. 'Did you ever make such a computation?' 'No,' Raskob replied. 'I never gave it any thought at the time.'"

Raskob then declared the Government's chart was not correct, even on the face of it, explaining why by going into the details of his transactions.

In the first cross-sale, made on Nov. 13, only two weeks after the Wall street crash, Raskob sold stocks worth $4,606,000 and bought stocks worth $4,582,750. These stocks were repurchased on the following Jan. 6 and du Pont paid by check to Raskob in the amount of $3,254,125. Raskob had to pay $5,989,500 to get his stock back. He testified he was short of cash and gave a note for $700,000, paying the rest by check.

Smaller Cross-Sale. There was a second smaller cross-sale on December 26, with repurchase the following Jan. 27—in which du Pont sold at $1,560,000 and bought back at $2,020,000, and Raskob sold at $1,569,000 and bought back for $1,600,000.

In the block of securities he purchased from du Pont on November 13 were 56,500 shares of General Motors, 50,000 of which Raskob sold the next day to Archmere, Inc., a holding company wholly owned by Mrs. Raskob.

"The Government's calculations in its chart," Raskob explained, "credits me with receiving the interest on the 56,500 shares of General Motors. This is a mistake, as it ignores the fact that 50,000 shares were sold to Archmere and the interest went to Archmere. This, in itself, throws the Government's chart out of balance by around $50,000."

Raskob then told of a separate transaction, a "short" sale of 27,000 shares of Warner Brothers stock by du Pont on Jan. 3 to Raskob, which du Pont "covered" later in the month at 50.

In that transaction, du Pont gave a check for $1,350,000 in payment for the 27,000 shares at 50 and Raskob gave him a check for $1,787,066.66—in payment for the $700,000 note plus interest, and a note for $1,080,000 plus interest, which Raskob gave to du Pont in the "short" sale.

The Government contends this "short" sale was the balancing-off transaction, allowing Raskob to make a profit of around $262,000 on the short sale, after deducting the interest on the note, to equalize the profit of around $262,000 which du Pont made from Raskob in the cross-sales of stocks.

Short Sale Explanation. Du Pont explained the "short" sale by testifying he sold that number of Warner Brothers shares "short" to "hedge" against further loss on brokerage accounts he had guaranteed for old employees and friends after the crash.

"In my anxiety to get out of debt to Mr. du Pont and pay off the two notes I had given him one of which was solely for the 27,000 shares of Warner Brothers," Raskob testified, "I sold my Warner Brothers back to him when it had risen enough to pay off the notes, and that, in itself, would result in the transactions coming out somewhat equal. I never thought of it at the time. I had a large loan at the Bankers' Trust Co. as well as the notes I had given to Mr. du Pont, and I wanted to reduce my indebtedness. Warner Brothers was rising so rapidly, however, that, if I had held on, I would have profited by around $300,000 in a week's time or so."

Raskob explained he sold not only the 27,000 shares of Warner Brothers included in the "short" transaction, but also 40,000 shares of Warner purchased from du Pont in the Dec. 26 transaction.

Raskob explained he telephoned du Pont from Palm Beach when the Warner Brothers stock had risen enough to pay back the notes and told him he wanted to sell it, and would sell it back to du Pont if agreeable. Du Pont bought it back. The call was on Jan. 25. The price of $50 was based on the market of the day before.

"Watkins 2369" on Check. Leming next turned to the first of the cross-sales on Nov. 13, by which, in comparison with values before 1930, Raskob and du Pont established losses of more than $7,000,000 which they deducted on their 1929 returns.

Leming handed the witness the check he gave on Nov. 13 to du Pont, and asked him about some penciled notations. The Government attorney was interested in one reading "Watkins 2369."

"That looks like a telephone number," Raskob replied, chuckling. "I don't know what it's doing on the check. But it looks like my handwriting."

"Oh, so that's a telephone number?" Leming asked. A ripple of laughter spread over the courtroom as Raskob replied: "I suppose it is. But I can't tell you if it's a good one."

Hearing Is Adjourned. The hearing was adjourned for the week-end after Hartfield said he wanted to produce some documents which were in Wilmington. The du Pont-Raskob counsel said they would be done with the principal issue in the case Monday—the issue revolving around the legality of the cross-sales and of the deduction of losses in these sales.

There is a second issue in the du Pont case, not affecting Raskob, concerning deductions in du Pont's 1929 income tax for interest paid out. Counsel for both the Government and du Pont said this could be cleared up in a day.

PAIR ACQUITTED OF MAKING MISSTATEMENT TO SEC

Trial of Harry E. Hanes and Milton Janis, First Under Act, Lasted Three Weeks. WASHINGTON, May 21.—Harry E. Hanes and Milton Janis of New York were acquitted today on a charge of conspiring to make a misstatement in a Securities and Exchange Commission registration statement. Their trial, the first in the history of the Securities Act fixing penalties for registration misstatements, lasted three weeks.

Hanes is general manager of the Standard Appraisal Co., Janis a salesman for a stock underwriting concern. The alleged misstatement concerned the value and description of the Continental Distillers & Importers Corporation property at Shrewsbury, Pa.

DETROIT PLANT DISCONTINUED

Yale and Towne Co., Closed by Strike, Had 400 Employees. DETROIT, May 21.—The Yale and Towne Manufacturing Co. announced today it would discontinue its Detroit plant, employing 400 to 800 workers, which has not operated since March 9, when a strike was called.

Shut-down strikers were evicted forcibly April 14.

NEW DEAL PUTS ON PRESSURE TO SAVE COURT PLAN

Burke Calls on Doubtful Senators to Stand Firm—Situation Is Calm Only 'on the Surface.'

NOW IS TIME TO BE ALERT, HE SAYS

He Thinks Roosevelt Wants 'All or Nothing' but Friends Are Preparing for Compromise.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 21.—Senator Burke (Dem.), Nebraska, called on opponents of the Roosevelt court bill today to stand firm, declaring administration leaders were "putting pressure" on doubtful Senators.

"The present calm is largely on the surface," he said. "Now is the time for opponents of the bill to be most alert."

Opponents of the measure said talk of modification was centering on the idea of two new Justices instead of a possible increase to 15.

The White House, however, was standing by the original provision for appointment of new Justices for every member serving more than 70 years old. At present five Justices are beyond that age.

A White House secretary, speaking for the President, said administration Senate advisers were urging that the fight for the entire measure continue.

Friends Working Quietly. Burke said he believed the President sincerely wanted "all or nothing," but that friends of the bill in the Senate were "quietly laying the foundation for an attempt to compromise."

There were indications the bill would not reach the Senate for another 10 days. Chairman King (Dem.), Utah, of the subcommittee drafting the committee's adverse report, said he expected to finish the report by the end of next week.

That probably would put off debate on the bill until June 2 or 3, and delay it until after the Supreme Court's expected verdict on the constitutionality of the Social Security Act.

Many Senators who have forecast eventual compromise have predicted that no agreement would be reached until the Court had decided on that law.

Speculation on Robinson. Speculation over the possibility of appointing Senator Robinson (Dem.), Arkansas, to the Supreme Court continued among his colleagues.

200 ALBANIAN INSURGENTS SEIZED BY LOYALIST ARMY

Cousin of Reported Originator of Revolt Among Those Taken in Custody.

By the Associated Press. ROME, May 21.—The number of insurgents taken by Government troops in the Albanian revolt has risen to 200, the Stefani (official Italian) News Agency reported today.

The agency said Elmas Toto, cousin of Elmas Toto, former cabinet member and reported originator of the revolt, was captured at Konispoli. He was carrying $4000 in gold francs, the dispatch said.

New Sit-Down at Detroit Plant. By the Associated Press. DETROIT, May 21.—A sit-down strike halted production today at the Bernard Schwartz Cigar Corporation plant, where strikers were evicted forcibly by police March 21. An agent of the United Cigar Workers' Union said woman employees charged the management had refused to keep terms of a truce which ended the early strike.

The paper also called on the new Cabinet to organize all war industries under the Government and take them out of the hands of individual labor organizations, and demanded an investigation into causes of the fall of Maja.

The Madrid front was quiet except for sniping in University City.

BILBAO, Spain, May 21.—The Spanish steamer Habana, carrying 4000 children from besieged Bilbao, sailed for England today. President Jose Antonio Aguirre and his Basque Government went aboard the vessel to bid the refugees farewell.

Three other ships are scheduled to sail for France tomorrow with 3000 refugees.

WOMAN KILLED BY YOUTHS SHE LET RIDE IN HER CAR

Charges They Shot Her in Attempt to Seal Her Automobile at Onida, S. D.

By the Associated Press. ONIDA, S. D., May 21.—Miss Ada Carey, 26 years old, died in the hospital here this afternoon soon after she identified two Chicago youths who shot her this morning in an attempt to steal her automobile after she had given them a ride.

The youths, arrested hiding in weeds near a deserted farm house, told Sheriff Reedy they were Norman Westberg, 17 years old, and Howard Christensen, 16. Reedy quoted them as admitting the shooting but said they insisted it was accidental.

500 MEN GO ON STAY DOWN STRIKE IN ILLINOIS MINE

eries are well illuminated by electric lights. With reasonable caution and discipline, an extended period in the pit would not injure the men's health, it was said.

Company's Mines Closed. Two of the company's other three mines were closed before the strike and the third was not opened for a day. A system of tunnels connects all four mines, and the strikers could easily enter any of the others.

About 2500 men are employed at the superior mines, one of which is already equipped with "hogs," mechanical loading devices which replace hand laborers. Another is being equipped with the labor-saving machinery, and recently work was received that No. 4 would be ready for operation.

The men, disturbed at the prospect of long lay-offs without pay for many members of the local, demanded immediate revision of schedules. Fisher said, and when the company failed to act decided to take possession of the mine.

The union contract with the company recently expired and no new agreement was reached. Under terms of the old contract, the company was not required to divide available work with miners until they had been idle for 30 days, but Fisher declared that it was customary for an arrangement to be made before closing a mine for repairs.

Pending the expected arrival from Chicago today of Pfahler, the men in the mine were aware that no settlement was in prospect and the afternoon and night were given over to card games, singing and other means of amusement. Some attempted to sleep, but most of the men joined in the merry-making.

Meanwhile several officers of the company made a brief preliminary conference with Ozanic and Claude Percy, secretary-treasurer of the union.

Organization of an above-ground "committee of supply" to keep the strikers fed and comfortable during negotiations, was under way to help Fisher make good the boast he repeated this morning: "We'll stay down until we win."

Dead Rigger Quoted. A chief rigger, Ludwig Knorr, who was killed in the explosion and

The machinist also said a hand spray gun once slipped out of a worker's hand and fell into the propeller. It was not thrown into the side of the ship and only dented the propeller, he said. That had happened a few minutes before the ship was making one of its landings, he related.

"The nut on the center guiding bolt of the valve on gas cell 3 (near the stern) had changed position or loosened," he said. "Behind this gas valve plate caught and would not close again. This occurred while the ship was in flight. The ship became tail heavy and on the leveling instrument in the control cabinet was noted that cell 3 was starting to empty. It was only necessary for a rigger to go up and push the valve plate and let it snap back."

Other witnesses had testified that after this episode the valve mechanism was changed and no similar trouble occurred.

Ziegler, who was in charge of gas valving, said there was no trouble with the valves on the fatal trip and gas fullness indicators, which were watched continuously, showed no abnormal lightness.

It was customary not to valve hydrogen while the motors were in reverse, he explained.

$2,400,000 in Insurance on the Hindenburg Has Been Paid. BERLIN, May 21.—About $2,400,000 in insurance on the destroyed Hindenburg has been paid, the Zepellin Co. said today. This represents virtually the full amount, of which $2,000,000 was held by English brokers and the rest by German companies. The ship cost $3,000,000. An additional payment of about $100,000 a passenger is expected for each of the 36 who were killed in the crash at Lakehurst, N. J.

Builder Declares Engine Sparks Could Not Fire the Hindenburg

Dr. Duerr, Chief Construction Engineer So Testifies at Hearing—Hydrogen in Cells Coated With Non-Inflammable Chemicals.

By the Associated Press. LAKEHURST, N. J., May 21.—Dr. Ludwig Duerr, chief construction director of the Hindenburg, told the Department of Commerce investigating board today that it was impossible to set a dirigible on fire by engine sparks.

His testimony struck a blow at the theory that sparks flying from the Hindenburg's motor exhausts somehow ignited the ship's highly inflammable hydrogen and caused the May 6 disaster which took 36 lives.

Dr. Duerr, who began his airship career with Count Zeppelin and has supervised design of every dirigible built in Germany in the past 38 years, described experiments conducted to determine if exhaust sparks were a danger.

Gasoline, hydrogen and even nitro-cellulose were placed inside exhaust pipes in these experiments to test whether the sparks would ignite them, he said, and the inflammable substances were never ignited.

Discusses Specifically the possibility of hydrogen being ignited, he pointed out the exhaust pipe temperatures of the Hindenburg's motors were between 230 and 250 degrees centigrade, whereas hydrogen does not reach the combustion point until the temperature is between 500 and 600 degrees centigrade.

Dr. Duerr was the first of the German delegation of experts to be called for testimony.

Tall, with deeply lined face, he described how gas cells were constructed to avoid any possibility of free hydrogen in the ship's hull. The covering of the gas cells was "doped" with non-inflammable chemicals, he said.

The entire metallic structure was bonded against outside electricity—that is, all metal pieces were tied into the structure so there was no spark gap, he said.

A machinist on the Hindenburg testified yesterday that he had sometimes seen sparks stream 450 feet along the airship from his forward motor.

The witness, Waldorf Bentele, chief machinist of the forward port car, was one of worst injured among the crew survivors. One hand and his back were severely burned when he was bounced through the propeller opening of his motor in the disaster two weeks ago.

Bentele said the sparks usually went outside the propeller circle of the aft car but later he said the exhaust smoke was pulled slightly toward the tapering of the ship by slip-streams of air.

Dead Rigger Quoted. A chief rigger, Ludwig Knorr, who was killed in the explosion and

It was only necessary for a rigger to go up and push the valve plate and let it snap back."

Other witnesses had testified that after this episode the valve mechanism was changed and no similar trouble occurred.

Ziegler, who was in charge of gas valving, said there was no trouble with the valves on the fatal trip and gas fullness indicators, which were watched continuously, showed no abnormal lightness.

It was customary not to valve hydrogen while the motors were in reverse, he explained.

$2,400,000 in Insurance on the Hindenburg Has Been Paid. BERLIN, May 21.—About $2,400,000 in insurance on the destroyed Hindenburg has been paid, the Zepellin Co. said today. This represents virtually the full amount, of which $2,000,000 was held by English brokers and the rest by German companies. The ship cost $3,000,000. An additional payment of about $100,000 a passenger is expected for each of the 36 who were killed in the crash at Lakehurst, N. J.

WAGE AND HOUR BILL IN HOUSE COMMITTEE

Administration Measure Set to Set Basic Standings, With Flexible Regulation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 21.—The administration's wage and hour bill, intended to make regulation by President Roosevelt in a special message to Congress, already has been submitted to members of the House Labor Committee, it was disclosed today.

Chairman Connery (Dem., Massachusetts), who will introduce the measure, would not discuss its provisions, but other members of the committee said the bill sought to establish a 40-hour work week and a basic minimum wage of 40 cents an hour, but at the same time was intended to make regulation flexible enough to take care of industries having individual labor problems.

The bill, they indicated, would set up a commission to work out details of the program. They said the commission probably would have power to fix maximum hours in some cases of 35 hours a week and to establish minimum wages in brackets ranging up to a limit of $1500 a year.

The bill was expected to include a flat prohibition against child labor.

Employment in Factories IS LARGEST SINCE 1929

Secretary Perkins Reports Number at Work in April Increased 86,000.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary of Labor Perkins reported today that factory employment last month reached the highest point since November, 1929, and that payrolls reached the October, 1929, level.

Employment throughout industry, he said, increased 86,000 between March and April, while weekly payrolls advanced $3,200,000. Employment, he said, had increased every month with one exception, January, 1936. Payroll recently has risen more rapidly than employment.

Following up on the election, the union today presented a collective bargaining contract to the corporation.

Philip Murray, director of the organization campaign in the steel industry, said:

"The victory is a smashing one. It supports the prediction we made before the election. It should be a warning to other independent producers that the wave of favorable sentiment for the CIO organization of the workers is not to be thwarted by opponents true collective bargaining. The steel speaks for itself and undoubtedly spells collective bargaining throughout the entire steel industry."

Statement for Company. H. E. Lewis, chairman of the corporation, issued this statement: "The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation is gratified that such an important issue has been amicably settled by peaceful and democratic methods under the provisions of the Wagner Act."

Now that the election is over, let us not forget the tension of the past few weeks and cheerily apply ourselves to our duties there is much for all of us to do with our order books better than for some time past."

Quiet Election. The election was more quiet than for municipal campaigns. DuPont said he had signed in his since 6 a. m. yesterday morning with a representative from the union and one from the company. There had not been a "single word difference."

He said he had not been asked to make a ruling, that the two had had all discussions without his intervention.

Director Dunbar and 64 agents of the Labor Board supervised the election. The union had 200 assistants in conducting the election. The company had 100 men at each of the 36 polling places.

The Steel Workers' Organizing Committee started the campaign in last June and now reports a membership of 500,000 among the steel workers.

Chairman Murray and other labor leaders indicated the outcome would have an effect on their own fight to bring into line the steel producers who are independent of the States Steel Corporation.

Production last March signed collective bargaining agent for members only. Since then more than 100 independents have fallen in.

At the biggest—Bethlehem, Republic and Inland—delayed, Jones & Laughlin, also in this election, held back and Chairman Murray called a strike last while negotiations were in progress.

Independents, warned by Jones & Laughlin, said they must sign con-

U. S. AGENT ARRESTED ON NARCOTICS CHARGE

Colleagues Take Him and 8 Others in Reno, Following Raids.

By the Associated Press.
RENO, Nev., May 21.—Fellow Federal agents arrested Chris Hansen, 38-year-old narcotics agent in charge of the Nevada district, today as a result of a series of night raids against drug traffic in Reno.

Eight others were arrested—Woo Sing, operator of the Public Club, A. V. McAvoy, former employee of the Internal Revenue Department, and six Chinese.

Hansen and McAvoy were charged with conspiracy to violate the Federal narcotics act, in addition to possession and sale. Their bail was set at $5000 each.

At Washington Federal Narcotics Bureau officials said Hansen was accused of having guilty knowledge of illicit narcotics activities, not of actual participation in a narcotics ring.

Hansen formerly worked in the Los Angeles, Portland, Spokane and Seattle districts. He came to Reno from Los Angeles four months ago. He recently made a spectacular narcotics raid in Carson City. McAvoy was employed as a W P A photographer.

Federal agents and Washoe County officials made three raids last night, but found narcotics only at the Public Club.

REQUISITION FOR MAN INDICTED FOR MURDER OF BANK CASHIER

Convict in California Accused of Holdup-Killing in St. Louis County.

Prosecuting Attorney M. Ralph Walsh of St. Louis County announced yesterday that Gov. Stark had issued a requisition on the Governor of California for Lawrence McBride, now completing a sentence at San Quentin prison, one of those indicted on a charge of first-degree murder and robbery in the killing of Cashier Todd V. Phelps at the Overland State Bank Jan. 18, 1929, in which $7600 was taken.

If the requisition is honored, McBride will be returned to Clayton for trial.

DEFENSE OPENS CASE AT GIRL'S MURDER TRIAL

Her Lawyer Says in Opening Argument That He Will Show That Youth Killed Her Mother.

NO STATEMENT MADE FOR BOY

Father of Gladys MacKnight in Jersey City Courtroom, Ready to Testify in Her Behalf.

By the Associated Press.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 21.—Counsel for 17-year-old Gladys MacKnight said today the girl would take the witness stand and testify that her co-defendant and former sweetheart, Donald Wightman, swung the hatchet that killed her mother, and that she did not know what was happening until Mrs. MacKnight collapsed in her arms.

The announcement was made in the opening argument of the defense in the trial of Miss MacKnight and the 18-year-old former choir boy on charges of murder.

The prosecution rested this morning. Counsel for Wightman waived his opening plea.

As her lawyer, R. Lewis Kennedy, outlined her defense, Miss MacKnight closed her eyes and swayed, and police matrons, holding her by the arms, helped her from the courtroom as a luncheon recess was taken.

Her father, Edgar MacKnight, was in court, ready to testify in his daughter's defense.

"Life and Death" Struggle.
Kennedy said he would show the killing occurred in a life and death struggle of the mother, the girl and Wightman.

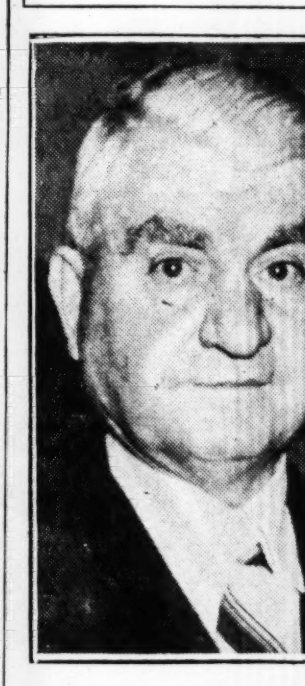

Kennedy said the girl and Wightman were standing together in the kitchen, kissing, when the mother suddenly appeared at a door leading from a porch.

She had a knife in her hand, and raised it, Kennedy continued, Miss MacKnight wrestled with her mother, then seized a second knife, and another struggle ensued, until the mother collapsed in the girl's arms, he said.

It was only then, Kennedy said, that Miss MacKnight saw the blood-stained hatchet in Wightman's hands.

Wightman's lawyer, George Vickers, told reporters after the recess was called: "I waived my opening because I refuse to place the hatchet in the girl's hands. If the evidence places it there, that's different." He said Kennedy's statement "simply knocks me flat."

PHARMACY INQUIRY RESOLUTION PENDING

Lindhorst to Seek Investigation of Board, Re-examination of Applicants.

State Representative Will L. Lindhorst of St. Louis announced yesterday that he would introduce a resolution in the House of Representatives next week for an investigation of the State Board of Pharmacy and also introduce a bill providing that applicants for pharmacists' licenses, examined by the board during the last year, should be re-examined.

Lindhorst said he had received requests from numerous druggists in St. Louis for an investigation of the Board of Pharmacy, and more specifically the manner in which examinations were conducted and licenses granted.

Asked if his proposed inquiry would also include an investigation of the charges of cheating in the April examinations conducted by the board, made by 41 students of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, Lindhorst said that it probably would.

"I want to get to the bottom of the whole business," he said, "and the best way to do it seems to be through an investigating committee. I also think it is only right that all applicants who took the examinations within the past year should be re-examined to remove all doubt as to their qualifications."

Gov. Stark announced Monday that he intended to make an investigation of his own into the charges of widespread cheating in the April examinations of the State Board, in which 108 applicants were examined. Walter T. Miessler, St. Louis member of the board, has denied there was any widespread cheating in the examinations.

AUTO UNION DEMANDS RENT CUTS BY JUNE 1 AT PONTIAC

Letters to Landlords Threaten Strikes in Which Tenants Will Refuse to Pay.

PONTIAC, Mich., May 21.—A committee of the United Automobile Workers of America notified landlords today that a "program for rent reductions" would be put into effect unless voluntary adjustments were made by June 1. The letters, sent to the owners of 2000 houses occupied by members of the union, followed a recent threat of "rent strikes" in which the occupants would hold the premises but refuse to pay rent.

The letters said: "Our survey of rent rates definitely shows that you are listed as having increased or intend to increase the rent of your tenants above a fair rent. We are notifying all who are doing so that, in accordance with our determination to remedy this situation, unless on or before June 1 rents have been reduced to a fair rate, Local Union No. 159 of the U A W, Pontiac, will put into effect its program for rent reductions."

The "adjustments" demanded are based on 1 per cent of the assessed valuation of a house. Thus, the committee demanded $30 a month as a "reasonable" rental for a property assessed at $3000.

STARK FEARS LOSS OF FEDERAL AID ON OLD AGE PENSIONS

Time Short for Action on Social Security Bill; Passed by Senate; House Yet to Act.

FAILURE WOULD COST $15,000,000

Funds Available Would Be Reduced One-Half; U. S. Gives Hearing on Missouri Delay.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 21. — Gov. Stark said today that, unless the Casey Social Security bill was passed by the Legislature by June 1, he feared the State would lose further Federal assistance for State old-age pensions.

The Casey bill, proposing a non-political commission to administer the State relief, old-age pensions and child welfare programs, was passed by the Senate nearly two weeks ago and is now being considered by the House Committee on Social Security. The committee studied the bill again last night but failed to report it to the House.

The measure, considered by authorities as being one of the most constructive measures offered to the assembly in many years, proposes to correct many of the administrative defects of the present Social Security program in the State. The present old-age-pension administration has been criticised severely by Federal authorities as being in violation of the National Social Security Act.

Most Show Cause.
Gov. Stark has been notified by the Federal Social Security Board in Washington that the State must show cause why it should not be cut off from further Federal grants for failing to establish an administrative system as required in the national act. The original hearing, set for May 11, was postponed at the request of the Governor until Tuesday, and then further postponed until June 1.

Loss of the Federal grants for old-age pensions will cost the State approximately $15,000,000 for the next two years, reducing by about one-half the funds that will be available for pension purposes in the State.

The National Social Security Board has condemned the Missouri system because of its lack of proper administrative machinery, objecting particularly to the method of paying the pensions through several State agencies instead of consolidating that work under the direct supervision of the State Old-Age Assistance Board. Also criticised was the State's method of investigating pension applicants, lack of proper records, and failure to re-investigate the persons on the pension rolls each year.

Casey Bill Approved.
Gov. Stark said he had been informed that the Casey bill had been approved tentatively by a representative of the National Social Security Board. The Governor said he was told that the measure, in its present form, would conform to the requirements of the Federal Act and, if enacted, would insure the continuation of Federal aid to the State.

This places the full responsibility of the situation on the members of the House committee, many of whom are known to look unfavorably on the non-political features of the bill. The committee has held two hearings on the bill and Representative Morris Osborn of Shelby County, chairman, said several more would be necessary before the bill could be reported to the House. He admitted the measure probably would be amended considerably but so far has declined to comment on the nature of the amendments.

Members' Objections.
Other members of the committee have shown a disposition to oppose the provisions in the bill requiring the employment of trained social workers for the investigation of applicants and recommendation of the amounts they shall receive in pensions while others object to conditional Federal grants as an attempt of the National Government to dominate the affairs of the State.

It is virtually certain that the bill will have to go into conference committee to settle the differences between the House and Senate, but the strong support of Senator Casey of Kansas City, author of the bill, and Senator McReynolds of Carthage should be sufficient to keep the bill in the same form as it was passed by the Senate.

Appropriations Bill.
The Social Security appropriation bill, authorizing an expenditure of $44,825,000 for old-age pensions, relief and other social security activities in Missouri during the biennial period of 1937 and 1938, was reported favorably yesterday by the House Committee on Appropriations. The bill now goes on the House calendar for perfection.

Of the total of $44,825,000 in items in the bill, $27,500,000 would be derived from State funds and $17,325,000 from Federal funds, on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis for old-age pensions and aid for dependent children.

This is the last of the approprition bills to be sent to the House by the committee.

Drafting of Bill Delayed.
Drafting of the bill had been held up pending a decision by the Legislature as to what State agency would be designated to handle all of the Social Security activities. The bill would place the funds in the hands of the proposed Social Security Commission, but contains a further provision giving the Governor final authority by making expenditure of the money subject to his control and supervision.

Inclusion in the appropriation act of the $17,325,000 expected to be received from the Federal Government was necessary, under constitutional and statutory provisions regulating the State's fiscal system, to enable the proposed commission to disburse the Federal money, once received.

Items in the bill, chargeable against State funds, include $15,000,000 for old-age pensions, $10,000,000 for relief of unemployment, $1,500,000 for aid of dependent children and $1,000,000 for expenses of administration, a total of $27,500,000.

The Federal grants expected, on a matching basis, are $15,000,000 for old-age pensions, $10,000,000 for aid of dependent children, and $25,000,000 for administrative expenses, a total of $17,325,000. From the two sources, under the act, the amount available for old-age pensions during the biennium would be $20,000,000, and for aid of dependent children, $3,000,000. So far there is no provision for Federal matching of unemployment relief funds.

All of the other appropriation bills have cleared the House and are pending in the Senate Committee on Appropriations, where most of the bills are being rewritten and many of the items reduced, to bring the proposed expenditures within estimates of State revenue for the biennium. Appropriations proposed by the House, including the Social Security bill brought out by its Appropriations Committee yesterday, carry a total of about $173,000,000 for the two years. After the bills, as revised, are passed by the Senate they must be returned to the House for concurrence in any Senate amendments.

Standardized guidance tests of all applicants will open the Jefferson College annual vocational guidance week tomorrow at the school office, 1528 Locust street. All St. Louis and St. Louis County high school seniors are eligible for the tests, the results of which will be used to obtain for applicants interviews with vocational counselors.

Both the retailer and the consumer were benefited, he said, by the fair trade act. "We have found that the consumer is being saved 7.6 per cent," Hewitt said.

30 DAYS ON SPEEDING CHARGE

John Sayer Accused of Going 80 Miles an Hour.

John Sayer, 3325 North Fourteenth street, a chauffeur, was sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse, fined $100 and his driver's license was suspended for six months by Police Judge Edward M. Ruddy today on a charge of speeding 80 miles an hour on Natural Bridge avenue between Marcus avenue and Grand boulevard early last Saturday.

Testimony was that he was in a rented car and gave a false name to police after his arrest. His record showed two previous arrests for speeding. He testified the speedometer was broken and he was "in a hurry."

Hair-Pulling in Women's Garment Workers' Fight at Atlanta

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

A PICKET and a worker in action just before police stepped in at the Majestic Manufacturing Co. in the Georgia city. In addition to hair-pulling, blows were exchanged, clothes torn and faces scratched in fighting when pickets tried to prevent employees from entering the plant, which the Ladies' Garment Workers' union is trying to organize. Three pickets were arrested.

SENATE PASSES BILL FOR PERMANENT C C C

Defeats Proposal to Limit Camps to Two Years—Restricts Enrollment.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 21.—Economy advocates failed to persuade the Senate yesterday to join a House revolt against President Roosevelt's request that the Civilian Conservation Corps be made permanent.

With only two dissenting votes, the Senators approved the administration's bill to make the C C C camps a permanent Federal enterprise. Only Senators King (Dem.), Utah, and Borah (Rep.), Idaho, opposed the measure on the final vote. Earlier Senator Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, a leading advocate of curtailed Federal spending, vainly urged that the life of the corps be extended for only two years at this time. His proposal was voted down, 42 to 26.

17 Democrats for Limitation. Seventeen Democrats—most of them leaders in the current economy campaign—joined the Republicans in voting for the two-year extension, but were swamped by the solid bloc of administration supporters.

During the debate Senator Black (Dem.), Alabama, contended Byrd's proposal would be false economy. He said planning for two-year periods would be inefficient and expensive, and added: "All of us know the C C C camps will continue to exist whether you write two years in here or not, because 95 per cent of the people want them."

King declared he would approve a two-year extension but could not write for a permanent setup because "we don't know what changes may be made in its administration."

"We don't know whether it will tend to develop into militarism, Socialism, or what," he said.

Salary of Director Cut. The bill now goes to a conference with the House, which has voted to limit extension to two years.

The Senate agreed with the House to slash the salary of Robert Fechner, C C C director, from $12,000 to $10,000, and voted to keep the basic pay of enrollees at $20 a month.

It also voted to restrict enrollment to 315,000 unemployed youths, but at the request of Senator Thomas (Dem.), Utah, knocked out a provision that they must be in needy circumstances.

He argued that to "stamp these boys as needy" would lower their self-respect and create "definite class legislation."

The Senate bill would place civilian employees under civil service, although the House measure lifted this restriction.

Both chambers agreed to leave the camps under supervision of Army Reserve officers.

Senator Clark (Dem.), Missouri, leader of the movement to cut Fechner's salary, made it plain he intended no reflection on the director's ability, but contended his pay should be in line with that of other Government administrators.

Borah argued that the camps should be continued on an experimental basis for several years.

Papal Senate Meeting Expected. By the Associated Press.

CASTLE GANDOLFO, Italy, May 21.—Unofficial reports today said a session of the papal senate for the creation of new Cardinals would be held in June. Creation of a fifth Cardinal in the United States was foreshadowed last October when Pope Pius elevated Los Angeles to the rank of archbishopric and established a new diocese at San Diego.

M. C. Robbins, Publisher, Dies. NEW YORK, May 21.—Ben C. Robbins, 62 years old, chairman of the Robbins Publishing Co. and former president of the New York Trade Press Association, died of heart disease yesterday. He was one of the founders of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

CIRCUS MANAGER ADVISES EMPLOYEES TO JOIN UNION

Says Nearly All in Ringling Bros. Show Are Willing to Do So.

BALTIMORE, May 21.—Samuel W. Gompertz, general manager of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey circus, said last night he had advised the 1600 employees of the show to join the American Federation of Actors. He added that all except about 100 employees expressed a willingness to join the Federation.

Gompertz said he expected the question of the circus employees' affiliation with the Federation to be settled at a conference with Ralph Whitehead, executive secretary, Monday.

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Colony. GREENSBURG, Pa., May 21.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt visited the Government's rehabilitation community at nearby Westmoreland Homesteads, in the western Pennsylvania coal fields today. She was accompanied by several girls from the Todhunter School in New York and Secret Service agents.

ACQUITTED OF MANSLAUGHTER IN BRENTWOOD AUTO FATALITY

James J. Butler, Coal Salesman, Charged in Death of Mrs. Michael Neogan.

James J. Butler, coal salesman, 5836 De Giverville avenue, was acquitted of manslaughter by a jury in Circuit Judge John A. Witthaus' court at Clayton yesterday after seven minutes' deliberation.

He was charged in the death of Mrs. Michael Neogan, 52 years old, who was struck by his automobile when crossing the highway in front of her home at 8106 Manchester road, Brentwood, Aug. 20, 1935. Henry Salvatore, 4 years old, of Pittsburgh, Pa., whom she was carrying, died a week later of injuries suffered in the accident. Mrs. Melba Player, 535 South Harrison avenue, Kirkwood, a witness for the State, testified that she was driving east and Butler west on Manchester, both of them traveling about 35 miles an hour, when Mrs. Neogan ran in front of her car and into the path of Butler's automobile. Another State witness, who was standing 300 feet away, estimated that Butler's speed was 60 miles an hour. Butler did not testify.

Infant Drinks Ammonia.

Edward Jaros, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jaros, 110 Upton street, drank ammonia today from a bottle with which his mother had been cleaning furniture in the living room of their home. She had left the child alone in the room with the corked bottle. On her return a considerable quantity of the liquid had been consumed by the boy, who was taken to City Hospital.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

TEXAS TO ASK FOR MASTER IN GREEN ESTATE HEARING

State Attorney-General Confers With Chief Justice Hughes on Motion.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Attorney-General William McCraw of Texas said yesterday he would ask the Supreme Court Monday for the appointment of a special master in the litigation involving the estate of the late Col. E. H. R. Green. McCraw, with his assistant, Llewellyn Duke, conferred with Chief Justice Hughes yesterday. He indicated that the court would give the motion for a master immediate consideration.

The appointment of a master, McCraw said, would end a long drawn out court battle by Texas, New York, Massachusetts and Florida, all of which seek to levy inheritance taxes on the $50,000,000 estate of the railroad magnate. The question of where Green legally resided is involved in the litigation. The master's function would be to hear evidence and present a report to the court in an effort to settle the controversy.

MAN'S BODY TAKEN FROM RIVER

Unidentified; Savings Account Book Found in Coat.

The body of an unidentified white man about 60 years old was recovered from the Mississippi River at the foot of Convent street yesterday afternoon and taken to the morgue.

The man was about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, weighed 175 pounds, and was dressed in a light tan cap, olive drab shirt and coat, dark blue trousers and black shoes. In the pockets of the coat was found a savings account bankbook issued by the Telegraphers National Bank in the name of Amud K. Asmus, showing a balance of $116.37.

BOOKIES' RELIEF BILLS PASS SENATE

Measures Sent to Governor Reduce Such Gambling From Felony to Misdemeanor.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 21.—Two bookmakers' relief bills, reducing from a felony to a misdemeanor the punishment of persons convicted of serving as custodian of bets or recording or registering bets, were passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the Governor.

The bills were called up for final passage by Senator Brogan of St. Louis, who said the Circuit Attorney had been unable to secure convictions under the felony statute because of the excessive punishment required. He also said the bills would relieve the grand jury from investigating these cases and would prevent the congesting of the Circuit Court docket.

Senator McReynolds of Carthage opposed the measures, contending they would, in effect, provide for the licensing of bookmaking by making the proprietors pay small fines. These cases would be left to the Prosecuting Attorney in St. Louis, he said, and there would be no prosecutions unless the Prosecuting Attorney issued the infractions.

The punishment under the misdemeanor statute proposed in the bills is imprisonment of six months to a year, or by a fine of $25 to $500, or by both fine and imprisonment. The present statute defines a violation as a felony, punishable by imprisonment of two to five years in the State penitentiary, imprisonment in the county jail of six months to a year, or a fine not less than $500, or both fine and imprisonment.

An amendment to set the minimum fine of $200 in the two bills was voted down. The six St. Louis Senators supported the measures, which had been introduced in the House by most of the city's Representatives. The bills are State-wide in application.

WISCONSIN HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR PUBLICLY-OWNED UTILITIES

Statewide System Proposed Under "Development Authority"; $80,000 for Promotion.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., May 21.—The Wisconsin Assembly passed and sent to the Senate yesterday an administration-sponsored bill which would permit a state-wide system of public ownership of utilities. The system would be developed under a privately incorporated organization, known as the Development Authority, which would do its own financing.

The State, prohibited by law from engaging in works of internal improvement, would appropriate $80,000 for the Development Authority under the bill, but the money would be used only for promotion.

AUTO CLUB WOULD REPEAL CITY DRIVERS' LICENSE LAWS

State-Wide Act Considered Sufficiently Deterrent to Recklessness, If Enforced.

Repeal of all municipal automobile drivers' license laws in the State was advocated by the board of governors of the Automobile Club of Missouri, at its thirty-fifth annual meeting last night at Sunset Hill Country Club, in commending Gov. Stark and the Legislature on the State-wide licensing law recently passed. The board felt a uniform requirement would be better and the annoyance of duplicate permits for some drivers should be avoided.

There are city license laws in St. Louis, Kansas City, Moberly and 11 St. Louis County suburbs. The board declared that the new State law would prove a strong deterrent to reckless driving and, if properly enforced, would save many lives annually. It was the board's opinion that the lack of examination of applicants for licenses did not constitute a vital weakness.

Roy F. Britton was re-elected president of the club. With a re-ord membership of 24,400, including a gain of 2400 in the last year, the club reported that it was sixth in size in the American Automobile Association.

2500 BOY SCOUTS TO OPEN CAMPOREE THIS AFTERNOON

Members of 120 Troops Arrive by Truck, Bus and Auto at Tilles Park in the County.

About 2500 Boy Scouts began arriving today by truck, bus and automobile at Tilles Park, Lay and Litzinger roads, St. Louis County, for the first Scout Camporee, three-day camping demonstration, starting at 3:30 o'clock. Tents will be inspected tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow morning between 9 o'clock and noon, the representatives of 120 troops will compete in field and camp activities. During the afternoon there will be field projects tests and a parade of 1500 Cubs, younger Scouts 9 to 12 years old. In the evening around a campfire a vaudeville show will be presented.

Church services will be held Sunday morning. Retreat will be at 4 o'clock.

50 MEN IN FOREIGN SERVICE OF U.S. DROPPED IN TWO YEARS

Hull Announces Reorganization of Latin-American and Mexican Divisions.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary of State Hull said today that from 40 to 50 foreign service officers had been "separated from the service" during a reorganization of the State Department started two years ago.

He announced at his press conference that, in line with the reorganization, the department's Latin-American and Mexican divisions, hitherto functioning as separate units, were being consolidated into one administrative bureau to be known as the Division of the American Republics. The new division will be headed by Laurence Duggan, present chief of the division of Latin-American affairs. Men occupying the highest classes in the service below ranges of Ministers and Ambassadors were involved in the shakeups.

MOVIE STRIKE PUT OFF AT SMALLER STUDIOS

Craft Unions Say They Will Await Result of Further Negotiations.

By the Associated Press. HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—The Federated Motion Picture Crafts postponed indefinitely today a proposed strike directed against 27 independent producers pending further discussion of the union demand for a closed shop.

The crafts had threatened to walk out last midnight unless they won their point. The 20-day strike at major film studios was given a setback when the Utility Workers' Union, largest of the eight units of the F. M. P. C., signed a separate peace agreement. Seven hundred utility workers were granted union shop and a basic pay scale of 75 cents an hour, a 15 cent increase, in return for going back to their jobs. The agreement was negotiated by the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, whose support won the Screen Actors' Guild a closed shop. The I. A. T. S. E. has been accused of being a company union by the F. M. P. C. Both are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Early this week the F. M. P. C.'s front was broken by the defection of the culinary workers and the machinists. They returned to work and will negotiate shop demands afterward, as the producers had suggested to all units of the Federation.

F. M. P. C. leaders, however, said they would stand by their demand "until shop guarantees to the Federation or the strike goes on indefinitely."

MISSOURI SENATE PASSES BILL FOR STATE PARKS BOARD

Measure for Administration of Preserves Not Covered in Wildlife Amendment Goes Back to House.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, May 21.—Creation of a new board to administer State parks after the wildlife conservation amendment to the State Constitution goes into effect July 1 was approved by the Senate yesterday. The bill goes back to the House because of Senate changes.

Senator L. N. Searcy said the measure was favored alike by proponents and opponents of the new Conservation Commission setup, as necessary for administration of State Parks not covered by the Constitutional amendment, or subject to support from Conservation Commission funds.

Searcy said that because of omission of specific mention of State parks from the constitutional amendment, it was agreed that those not containing fish hatcheries or used as wild life preserves must be supported in the future from general revenue funds.

The new park board would include the Governor, Attorney-General and the Conservation Commissioner. It would have power to make rules and regulations governing the State parks, and buy land for park purposes with use of the power of eminent domain.

$830 FORGED CHECK FOR AUTO

East St. Louis Agency Reports Receiving Bad Paper in Sale.

Dave Thompson, office manager of the Harmon Motor Co., 1100 Illinois avenue, East St. Louis, reported to police yesterday that a man obtained a new automobile from the agency by forging an $830 check in the name of A. H. Bauer, Bunker Hill, Ill., last Monday. The car is an agate red Oldsmobile coupe.

MAN BEATEN BY DEPUTY WINS $15,000 VERDICT

Jury Makes Award to Martin Donelon Against Ex-Sheriff Philip G. Deuser.

A verdict for $15,000 damages for a beating at the hands of a Deputy Sheriff was returned by a jury in Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday in favor of Martin Donelon, 26 years old, 6241 Lenox avenue, Wellston.

The judgment was against Philip G. Deuser, former Sheriff of St. Louis County, and his bonding company, the Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Maryland. The suit was for $50,000. Donelon testified he was struck several times on the head with a club by Clarence Zahner, a deputy under Deuser, on Nov. 5, 1933, and subsequently was declared insane by the Probate Court. He said he was a patient in the State Asylum at Farmington from January to April, 1934, when he was discharged as cured.

Zahner denied hitting the plaintiff on the head with a club. He explained that he and another deputy were sent to stop a fight between four men, one of them Donelon, in the 6200 block of Easton avenue, and had to use force. He said he hit Donelon once in the face with a rubber billy. Expert medical testimony differed as to the cause of Donelon's temporary insanity. Aliens testified for the plaintiff that his insanity resulted from an injury of the brain, such as could be caused by a blow on the head. Physicians appearing for the defense described Donelon's condition as dementia praecox. Defense counsel said a motion for a new trial would be filed with Circuit Judge Julius R. Nolte.

FINED AS CARELESS DRIVER

Motorist Ran Down Boy on Bicycle March 21.

Edward W. Weber, 3925 Bowen street, an accountant, was fined $100 by Police Judge James F. Nangle today on a charge of careless driving, growing out of an accident in the 8000 block of South Broadway March 21 in which an automobile driven by Weber injured a boy on a bicycle.

Robert Bunch, 13 years old, 8024 Post street, the boy who was struck, testified that he suffered a skull injury.

ANTI-SPEED-UP SIT-DOWN ENDED IN DETROIT PLANT

Auto Workers Union and Murray Corporation Come to Terms at Ecorse After Overnight Tie-Up.

SETTLEMENT BASIS IS NOT GIVEN OUT

Men in Body-Making Shop Insisted 125 Bodies an Hour Was Enough; Management Wanted 130.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, May 21.—Production was resumed today in the Ecorse plant of the Murray Corporation after an overnight sit-down by 400 workers objecting to the speed of production. Representatives of the union and management met during the night and came to an agreement, terms of which were not disclosed.

Clayton McCreary, president of the Downriver local of the United Automobile Workers of America, said the dispute started when workers on the night shift contended that 125 bodies an hour was the most that could be produced.

He said that Harold P. Glazier, superintendent of the evening shift, insisted that the men should complete 130 bodies hourly.

The plant manufactures automobile and truck bodies for the Ford Motor Co. and for the Dodge and Plymouth divisions of the Chrysler Corporation.

The union leader said the workers also complained to the management about ventilation and other working conditions.

400 Remain in Plant.
McCreary said Glazier told the men the factory was being closed and blew the whistle two hours before the regular quitting time.

About 400 of the 1400 men on the shift sat down. A new shift of 300 men had been due to report for work at midnight. International officers of the union were summoned from headquarters here and they went into a conference with Glazier and other representatives of the management.

The U A W has a three months' agreement in the body factory.

Three hundred members of the union who struck Wednesday continued to hold the Champion Spark Plug Co. plant in Ham-tramck. No negotiations have been arranged. Ed Ayers, a U A W organizer, said the strike was precipitated by attempts of the management to break up the union.

Plymouth Strike Ends.
A strike which left 10,200 hourly rate workers idle at the Plymouth plant six hours yesterday was settled in time for production to be resumed with the arrival of the night shift. Union leaders said the strike was unauthorized.

Richard Frankenstein, U A W organizational director, attributed it to the union workers' resentment over the return of six men who had been laid off for soliciting memberships in the Independent Association of Chrysler Employees.
He said the management destroyed any connection with the rival group and agreed to dismiss any employee soliciting members in the plant.

An agreement between the U A W and the Chrysler Corporation forbids such soliciting.

K. T. Keller, Chrysler president, said he considered the action of the six workers "a violation of the agreement with the U A W" and that the strike, in two major departments, was caused by "solicitation and coercion on the company's time and property."

Wages Increased, Sit-Down Ends
at Cleveland Auto Parts Plant.
By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, May 21.—A wage increase of eight cents an hour was one of the provisions which today ended the sit-down strike of members of the United Automobile Workers' Union at the Globe Machine & Stamping Co. plant, permitting reopening Monday for the concern's 900 employees.

The agreement also provides the company will deal with the Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate pending a National Labor Relations Board decision on a bargaining unit for the plant. Four American Federation of Labor craft unions have petitioned the board, seeking to represent the workers.

The Cleveland concern manufactures parts for the Hudson-Essex
Co. in Detroit.

Congressman Knutson Tells of De-

"Frozen North."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Representative Harold Knutson (Rep.), Minnesota, in House debate on the relief appropriation bill yesterday, criticized the WPA and Harry Hopkins. He said:

"Mr. Hopkins and his WPA have been engaged in some exciting and unusual adventures during the last three years. These include every type of project known to human mind to keep a person busy without materially bettering his position in life, either—physically or mentally."

"As an example of these projects, you will recall the boondoggles of the past. These have nothing on the 5133 hardy souls on relief in New York and the 3046 in Illinois who make up a part of the 25,000 men in the mosquito brigade who rendered distinguished service in the month of December fighting mosquitoes in the snow and ice of the frozen North. The records are replete with similar enterprises.

MORE EVIDENCE IN TAX SUIT

BY VISCOUNT ASTOR'S HEIRS

Efforts Made to Show English Lord Did Not Try to Evade U. S. Estate Taxes.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Attorneys for the heirs of Viscount William Waldorf Astor added several letters yesterday to evidence offered in Federal Court to prove that a trust fund created by the American-born English Lord in 1919 was not established to escape American estate taxes.

The United States Government collected approximately $10,000,000 in estate taxes on the fund, which with interest would amount to $20,000,000. The heirs are suing to recover that sum, contending that the trust was not created in anticipation of death.

A letter from Viscount Astor to Janson, Cobb, Pearson & Co., London lawyers, offered in evidence, contained a phrase to the effect that "the settlement was to anticipate the provisions of my will." A deposition by Russell Asquith Wooding, a member of the firm, explained that "the phrase is a common one and means that the provisions of the trust were to take effect on his death. It does not connote even the remotest anticipation of death."

of Estimate.

The annual municipal budget and tax rate bills were passed unanimously by the Board of Aldermen today, exactly as submitted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Appropriations of $32,271,850 were made in the budget bill for the fiscal year which began last month, including $20,365,379 for general city expenditures. The remainder was for the self-sustaining Water Division and for the requirements of the bond interest and sinking fund. The total was $2,752,288 larger than the bill a year ago, due almost entirely to increased requirements of the sinking fund. General appropriations were only $56,700 larger than in the budget bill a year ago.

The tax rate was fixed at $1.35 on the $100 valuation for general purposes and 40 cents for the interest and sinking fund, the same as last year in each instance. Including the 87-cent school rate and 15-cent State rate, the aggregate levy in St. Louis will be $2.77, unchanged from 1936. The city abandoned a proposal for a new 10-cent street and bridge maintenance tax rate when the Board of Education refused to make a corresponding cut in its charge to offset it.

No Provision for Relief.
The Ways and Means Committee of the Aldermen approved the budget bill yesterday. Passage of this measure was in sharp contrast with the experience of earlier years of the Dickmann administration, when an unfriendly Democratic majority in the board caused delays on the budget and decreases in some allowances.

No provision was made in the new budget for public relief, estimated to cost the city more than $1,000,000 for the year; for elimination of the record deficit of $2,017,590 left at the end of the last fiscal year, or for appropriations exceeding anticipated income by about $100,000.

However, new tax measures, estimated to raise a total of $1,089,000 annually, have been introduced in the Board of Aldermen and referred to a special revenue committee. Alderman Walter H. Toberman, chairman of the committee, announced today that its first meeting would be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday. He thought the measures, including a gallonage tax on beer, a baseball tax and taxes on railroad mileage, garages and parking lots, could be passed by June 15, when the board will adjourn for the summer.

New Grain License Voted.
The board passed unanimously a bill introduced by Toberman, a grain merchant, to fix the annual license tax of grain merchants at $50 a year instead of the sliding scale based on volume heretofore in use. Toberman, expressing the opinion the net income of the city would not be decreased by the change, asserted that many concerns in his business had been paying only $25 a year, while only one had paid the maximum of $500.

Approval of the annual standardization bill, fixing wages of city employees, was voted by the Board of Estimate. This measure will be of Estimate. This measure will be of Estimate. This measure will be of Estimate.

Deputy Comptroller Charles L. Cunningham told reporters the Board of Estimate had decided there would be no supplementary appropriations for departmental expenses during the current fiscal year. If any wage increase should be granted, it will have to be absorbed out of funds already provided in the budget.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY EXEMPTION FROM CHILD LABOR RULE

Secretary Perkins Extends Her Ruling Under Walsh-Healy Contract Act.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary of Labor Perkins granted the cotton textile industry an indefinite extension today of an exemption from the child labor provisions of the Walsh-Healy Government contract Act as they affect girls from 16 to 18 years old.

The extension was granted with these conditions: That no girl under 16 years old shall be employed, that no girl under 18 who was not working before last Oct. 15 shall be employed, that no girl under 18 shall work at night or in any job "hazardous or dangerous to health," and that a specific lunch period shall be established for women workers.

Al Capone's Brother Gravely Hurt.
By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Matthew Capone, 29 years old, younger brother of Al Capone, was in grave condition in a hospital today from a skull fracture suffered in an automobile accident in Cicero. Police said Capone lost control of his car last night when a rear tire blew. Al Capone is serving a 10-year sentence in the Alcatraz Island penitentiary for violation of the income tax laws.

Man, 71, Saves Boy, 4, From Well.

By the Associated Press.
STAUNTON, Ill., May 21.—The agility of David Kirkwood, 71 years old, saved 4-year-old Jack Purshaw of Detroit from a well yesterday. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Purshaw, fell in but clung to the rock side with his head just above water. Kirkwood, attracted by the child's cries, went down and rescued him. The boy is visiting relatives here.

LABOR SPY EXECUTIVE

FREED OF CONTEMPT

Jury Acquits L. D. Rice Who Defied Senate Civil Liberties Committee.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—A jury in District Court took only 45 minutes yesterday to acquit L. Douglas Rice, vice-president and general manager of the Railway Audit and Inspection Co., an industrial detective firm, on contempt charges growing out of his defiance of the Senate Civil Liberties Investigating Committee last summer.

He and five associates failed last August to obey the Senate committee's command to appear before it and to produce records of their industrial detective service.

The committee subsequently obtained their indictment under a statute enacted only last year, which makes failure to respect such congressional commands a Federal offense.

Defense Argument.
During arguments before the jury, Leonard Weinburg, defense attorney, declared: "I know it has become the fashion here in Washington to browbeat and intimidate anybody who does assert his rights. It is because this defendant so dared that this action is brought by petulant and angry men."

Admitting that Rice neither appeared nor produced the records requested by the Senate investigators, the defense argued his failure was not willful but was due to court proceedings he filed to test validity of the committee's summons.

Crampton Harris, special Government prosecutor, contended Rice's "willfulness" had been demonstrated by the fact that he brought a suit to restrain himself and his associates from complying with the committee's request.

Government counsel made no immediate announcement as to whether Rice's associates would be tried.

Concern Furnished Labor Spies.
During the Senate committee's investigation of the Railway Audit & Inspection Co., it heard from former employees of the firm that it had furnished various industrial concerns with spies and strike-breakers.

The committee also obtained evidence of the company's operations from scraps of paper salvaged from its waste baskets.

Officers of the company contended it might be destroyed, and the lives of their employees endangered, if they testified before the committee and produced their records.

FRANCE WANTS TRANS-OCEAN AIR RACE TO START IN U. S.
Air Ministry Announces It "Will Not Authorize Switching Point of Departure."

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 21.—The French Air Ministry said today it "would not authorize switching the point of departure from the United States" in the projected New York-Paris air race.

The statement followed reports that Jimmy Mattern and Dick Merrill, aviators seeking to have the race start in Canada, had cabled Pierre Cot, French Air Minister, offering their aid.

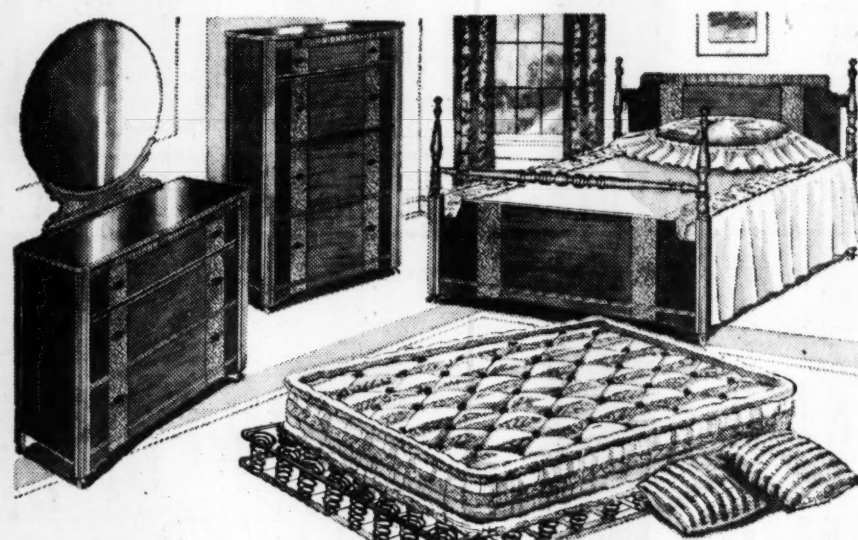

The race would be held to commemorate the Lindbergh flight 10 years ago. The State Department recently refused permission to start the race from New York.

"ONE OF BEST THIEVES IN COUNTRY" GETS 12 YEARS
Washington Burglar Who Worked in Evening Clothes Called Self "Master Craftsman."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—George Garcia, who robbed Washington apartments, dressed in evening clothes, was sentenced today to 12 to 40 years in prison.

He was convicted on three house-breaking charges and pleaded guilty to 22. Garcia called himself "a master craftsman—probably one of the best thieves in the country."

HOW ITALY MET COST OF ETHIOPIAN WAR

Minister Says Taxes on Rich and Conversion of Foreign Securities Yielded Funds.

(Copyright, 1937, New York Tribune Inc.)
ROME, May 21.—Combining a "soak-the-rich" policy with one of "pay-as-you-go," Fascist Italy has been able to meet the cost of the Ethiopian war and the deficit in the last two budgets out of special revenues, Marquis Paolo Thaon de Revel, Finance Minister, said yesterday.

A patriotic people had turned into the state enough to meet the 12-110,000,000 lire ($37,368,000) estimated cost of the Ethiopian war from 1934 to 1936, and the deficit for 1934 through 1936 as well, Thaon de Revel told the Chamber of Deputies.

In addition, the deficit in the current budget could also be covered, he said. The amount of this deficit he did not disclose, but he thought it would be negligible.

Security Conversion.
The state's coffers got 25,288,000 lire ($1,330,947,000) from the proceeds of treasury bonds and cash accruing from debt conversion and similar operations. Of the amount, 2,206,000,000 lire ($116,105,000) was derived from a conversion of foreign securities and currencies held by Italians, who were compelled to yield such holdings when their country embarked on the African war.

Of this last amount, a large part was represented by American issues, which have advanced so steadily in the last two years that the Italian Government, it is believed, has made a profit of perhaps 100 per cent by operating in the New York market; but Thaon de Revel gave no details in this connection.

Public Debt $5,328,000,000.
The Finance Minister announced that Italy's public debt, which on June 30, 1934, stood at 91,997,000,000 lire ($4,841,947,000) had risen by April 30 of this year to 101,241,000,000 lire ($5,328,421,000). Gold held by the Bank of Italy on the latter date represented 4,022,000,000 lire ($211,684,000) and the currency in circulation totaled 15,644,000,000 lire ($823,268,000), according to the figures given.

For the following fiscal year, the Finance Minister forecasts a deficit exceeding 3,000,000,000 lire ($157,875,000) in contrast with the current year's deficit, expected, as stated, to be small.
Though unable to count on special revenue next year, Italy looked forward to a general economic improvement in the world, as well as to a reorganization of its own tax system, to help it shoulder the burden of increasing expenditures, the Minister said.

23 PCT. INCREASE IN INTERNAL REVENUE

U. S. Treasury Reports Collections for 10 Months Total $3,544,655,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Treasury reported today internal revenue collections of $11,800,000 a day for the last 10 months, or $2,300,000 more than the daily average a year ago.

The receipts this year, not including customs duties, income from interest and similar items, failed by $9,000,000 to equal daily expenditures. At $20,800,000, the latter were $1,000,000 over last year.

Aggregate internal revenue for the first 10 months of this fiscal year, the Treasury said, was $3,544,655,000, an increase of $684,785,000 or 23 per cent over last year.

The report was made public after Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee proposed a two-year extension of "nuisance" tax, from which part of the internal revenue fund is derived. They cover such items as trucks, matches, electricity and chewing gum.

President Roosevelt had asked Congress not to let the levies, which it was estimated would provide $452,580,000 to the next year, expire at the end of June.

Some of Doughton's committee members, however, sought to eliminate or reduce a number of the nuisance taxes.

Treasury officials said income tax receipts climbed almost twice as swiftly as total revenues in the last 10 months, aggregating $1,548,700,000, or 44 per cent over last year.

Taxes on individual income increased 54 per cent to $799,705,000, while corporation income receipts rose 34 per cent to $749,063,000. Last year the Government collected $39,000,000 more from corporations than from individuals.

Liquor taxes provided $491,303,000, or $80,687,000 more than last year; tobacco taxes, $457,689,000, an increase of $47,301,000, and manufacturers' excise taxes, $360,491,000, an upturn of $54,281,000.

the allegation that he was a habit-

Urge Support for Resolution for Inquiry in Ponce Disorders.WASHINGTON, May 21.—A delegation of Puerto Rican sympathizers, headed by Representative Bernard, Farmer-Laborite, Minnesota, asked Secretary of the Interior Ickes today to remove Dr. Ernest H. Gruening, director of the Division of Territories and Island Possessions.The group, which included former Representative Vito Marcantonio of New York, also asked Ickes to support Bernard's resolution calling for an investigation of the Ponce disorders on last Palm Sunday, when 20 Puerto Ricans were killed."We protested against the terroristic activities of the American administration in Puerto Rico," said Bernard. "We also protested against the massacre itself, the imprisonment of Dr. Pedro Albizu Campos, president of the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico, and seven other Nationalists, under the United States sedition law.""We claim the island administration attempted to whitewash its responsibility for the Ponce massacre

Nationalists on murder charges in connection with the Ponce events."BRITAIN HAS HOPES FOR SPANISH TRUCELondon Reports Indications Germany and Italy Will Join in Armistice Plan.By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 21. — Proposals for an armistice in the Spanish civil war and for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers appeared to be moving toward actuality today with authoritative assurances that no European Power outside Spain will object.Germany and Italy were said authoritatively to have been the greatest stumbling blocks to the twin plans for restoring peace in Spain, but diplomatic indications were both now would join general discussions.The British Government, through its own Ambassadors, has been seeking to learn the attitude of other nations on the armistice for some time. It was reliably disclosed that they have encountered no refusal for active consideration of the plan.A special technical committee of the 27-nation "hands off Spain" group discussed the possibility of withdrawing foreign troops from the civil war today and pressed the delegates to obtain their Governments' flat approval of an armistice.The Spanish Government's efforts to bring the civil war before the League of Nations, meanwhile, were received coolly. Informed quarters contended that an armistice before the League convenes would prevent serious considerations of the Spanish demands at Geneva.The League of Nations Council Assembly will meet next week. The Spanish Government, which has made repeated accusations of German and Italian intervention in the civil war in violation of international neutrality agreements, appealed to the League to investigate intervention as a threat to the continent's peace.Great Britain was said to be pressing its Spanish peace plans through the non-intervention committee rather than through the League of Nations and was reluctant to consider separate negotiations outside either body.France, Belgium and Vatican Said to Have Approved.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 21.—France, Belgium and the Vatican were reported today by a usually well-informed source to have approved a British plan to bring about an armistice in Spain and withdrawal of foreign volunteers in the civil war.Both Catholic and Socialist sources suggested the Belgian Government would be likely to connect negotiations with both the Spanish Government and its foe, insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.The British plan, it was said, called for dispatching of international commissions to Spain and gradual application of the truce until it covered all Government and insurgent-held territory, simultaneously disarming and sending home foreign soldiery.The Valencia Government's request of yesterday that the League of Nations Council consider intervention in the conflict threatened to alienate Italy from the armistice plan.French-British Attitude.
France and Britain were reported to be opposing the Spanish Government move to threaten the dispute at Geneva, preferring to advance their original plan which brought the bar on arms, munitions and volunteers for the war through the 27-nation neutrality group.Valencia previously accepted in principle a plan to settle the war by plebiscite but Salamanca, headquarters of Franco's authoritarian government, has not replied. The attitude of both sides to the proposed recall of volunteers was not known.An insurgent spokesman, Gen.
Millan Astray, yesterday broadcast a warning that anyone in the insurgent ranks who "pronounces the word 'armistice' will be considered a traitor.""In Red Spain and abroad it may be possible to speak of armistice, but Nationalists Spain is fighting for its existence, its independence, its civilization and its grandeur," he said.This was taken as the insurgent answer to the British armistice proposal.

FIGHT ON SLUMS NEEDS U. S. AID, SAYS HOOVER

Ex-President Addresses Boys' Club at Detroit—Sees Henry Ford.

By The Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., May 21.—Herbert Hoover told the Boys' Club of Detroit last night that the problem of providing decent houses for slum dwellers can be solved only by public subsidies either "as a contribution to the cost of the land and buildings or to the rents."

The former President renewed his acquaintance with Henry Ford here yesterday before delivering an address at the tenth anniversary banquet of the Boys' Club.

"If our municipalities," Hoover told his hearers, "had the courage to enact and the courage to enforce proper health, sanitary and living requirements in slum areas at least the speculative value of slum lands would evaporate. The taxpayer should not be required to pay speculative values as a part of the inevitable subsidies if we are to correct this evil."

"Moreover, such a pressure would force land owners to put up better buildings and would contribute at least something to housing problems."

At Ford's Greenfield Village Museum of Early Americana, Hoover placed a lap on the perpetual fire in the courthouse where Abraham Lincoln once practiced law. He started the fire in 1929 when, as President, he participated in the Edison Golden Jubilee of Light.

Only Lawrence Ritchie, his secretary, accompanied Hoover to Detroit. Hoover and Ritchie were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ford at luncheon. Edsel Ford and William J. Cameron, a Ford Motor Co. executive, lunched with them.

PRIZE PAINTER

CLIFFORD EDGAR JONES, TWENTY-ONE-YEAR-OLD Kokomo (Ind.) art student who was awarded one of the four scholarships of the American Academy in Rome with value of $4000 each, which enables the winners to study and travel two years in Europe. Jones, who received the award in painting, will be graduated next month from an Indianapolis art school. His winning canvas, called "Carnival," portrays the interior of a circus tent.

Retired U. S. Diplomat Dies. PARIS, May 21.—Gustave Scholle, retired United States diplomat, died of heart disease here Thursday at the age of 74. He had served as secretary of American embassies in Paris, Madrid, Havana and Berlin.

Church Report on Race Relations. By The Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—A committee recommended to the Northern Baptist convention yesterday that a conference on race relations be held with the Southern Baptist convention. "We in America have been guilty of practices so flagrantly un-Christian as to bring us under severe condemnation," the report says. "We cannot consistently champion the cause of the oppressed minorities in other lands until we first set our house in order."

ST. LOUIS POST-D

PART THREE

CARDINAL

MIZE HITS HO WITH 2 ON ST JOHNSON

By J. Roy Stockton

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, May 21.—Major Cardinals and Manager Grimes shook up the game of a series of two this afternoon.

Terry Moore in centerfield and Pepper Mar

John Winsett, slugging product of the Cardinal organization who had been on the bench on account of a batting slump, returned to left-field for the Dodgers with Jimmy

Bucher playing third base.

St. Johnson and Mickey Owen formed the Cardinal battery and

Max Butcher pitched for Brooklyn, with Spencer catching.

Tony Malinosky of the Brooklyn

club, whose home is at Collinsville, received a wrist watch as a gift from the fans in his home town in a ceremony at home plate.

Threatening weather held down

the attendance to about 2500.

The game.

FIRST INNING — DODGERS—

Conney flied to Medwick. Lavagetto flied to Padgett. Hassetz doubled to left. Brown threw out

Manush.

CARDINALS—Pepper Martin singled to right. Brown sacrificed,

Butcher to Hassetz, Gutteridge beat out a grounder to Lavagetto, Pepper Martin stopping at third. Medwick fouled to English. On the

tin was out at the plate, Spencer to English to Spencer.

SECOND — DODGERS — Owen

made a good running catch of Win-

Bucher. Gutteridge threw out English.

CARDINALS—Mize walked. Pad-

to third. Durocher doubled to left-center, scoring Mize and Padgett.

Lavagetto threw out Owens, Durocher moving to third. Durocher was picked off third on an attempted squeeze play. Spencer to Bucher. Johnson struck out TWO RUNS.

THIRD — DODGERS — Spencer

singled to center. Butcher flied to Padgett. Conney hit to Brown who sagged Spencer, then threw to Mize

for a double play.

CARDINALS — Pepper Martin

walked. Brown bunted for a sacri-

when Pepper Martin beat Spencer's throw to second. Gutteridge, trying to bunt, popped to Butcher. Med-

pper Martin and sending Brown to third. Mize hit a homerun to the roof of the pavilion in right-center and scored behind Brown and Mewick. Henshaw, a left hander, replaced Butcher on the hill for the Dodgers. Padgett was called out on strikes. Durocher struck out

FOUR RUNS.

FOURTH — DODGERS — A light

rain started falling. Lavagetto walked. Hassetz struck out. Ma-nush popped to Durocher. Winsett singled to right. Lavagetto stopping at second. Pepper Martin made a leaping glove-hand catch of Bucher's line drive, brushing the pavilion wall as he leaped.

CARDINALS — Owen popped to Bucher. Lavagetto threw out Johnson. Pepper Martin bunted and was thrown out by Henshaw.

FIFTH — DODGERS — It was still raining as English popped to Durocher. Spencer walked. Henshaw forced Spencer to Johnson to Brown to Durocher. Johnson threw out

Conney.

CARDINALS—Brown popped to

teridge, and when Winsett's throw hit Medwick sliding into third, and caromed away, Medwick also scored and Padgett reached third.

Jeffcoat replaced Henshaw on the hill for the Dodgers. Padgett tried to steal home but was tagged out by

Spencer. TWO RUNS.

FIFTH — DODGERS—Durocher

threw out Lavagetto. Hassetz singled off Johnson's glove. Manush flied to Medwick. Winsett hit a home run to the roof of the pavilion, scoring behind Hassetz.

Bucher flied to Pepper Martin.

TWO RUNS.

Knudsen to Referee.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 21.—Mrs. Ethel V. Mars will rely on Case Ace and Military to bring home the winner's share of the $12,000 added Illinois Derby purse tomorrow at Aurora.

Trainer Bob McGarvey at first planned to send Case Ace to Belmont Park for the Withers Mile tomorrow, with Reaping Reward, which finished third in the Kentucky Derby, as Military's running mate.

The first rich stake of Illinois' long season. He shifted, however, deciding to keep Case Ace in Chicago and point Reaping Reward for the Latonia and American Derbies.

The Mars entry figured to go to the post a favorite in the mile and an eighth test, although the withdrawal of Reaping Reward may make J. W. Parish's Dellor or Mrs. Emil Denemark's entry of Prairie Dog and Muscate, the choice. McGarvey said Alfred Robertson, the stable's number one rider, would be aboard Case Ace, with Irving Anderson, contract jockey for Warren Wright of Chicago, on Military.

The race still shaped up as a 12-horse battle, with five Kentucky Derby starters, Military, Dellor, the Three Ds Stock Farm's Heifly, the Shandon Farm's Burning Star, and Shaoul Walsh's Sunset Trail II in the field. Other prospective starters were Quincy, from the Shandon Farm; Grey Court, E. E. Fogelson's Louisiana Derby winner; W. E. Reichert's Sir Midas and Winged Victory from the C. W. Fearshall stable.

Tomorrow's program will close the first phase of the Illinois racing season. Washington Park will open its 30-day Monday, offering a total of about $285,000 in purses, with the $25,000 added American Derby, June 19, as the blue ribbon event.

HORNSBYMEN TIE SCORE IN NINTH BUT LOSE IN 11TH

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 21.—Still bogged down by a succession of defeats, the Browns dropped the opening game of their series with the Yankees here this afternoon.

The score was 4 to 3. After tying the score in the ninth inning, the Browns were forced to accept defeat in the eleventh when Rolfe singled off Sheriff Blake to put the winning run on base. With one out, Gehrig was purposely passed, but Dickey came through with the single that ended the game.

It was the fifth time in succession the Browns suffered defeat by a one-run margin. Elton Hogsett was Manager Hornsby's starting pitcher and he was opposed by Monte Pearson.

Extra-base hits by Gehrig and Lazzeri put Hogsett at an early disadvantage but he settled down. Pearson went along smoothly until he suddenly lost control in the fourth. In spite of the fact that he walked three men and was found for one hit in that inning, the Browns were held scoreless by reason of a double play.

Hogsett then held the Yanks until he was removed for a pinch batter in the seventh inning. Pearson ran into trouble again in the seventh when West's single drove in a run, and when he wobbled in the eighth he was removed from the box, succeeded by John Murphy, a righthander.

The attendance was 10,504. The game: FIRST — BROWNS—Davis doubled down the right field foul line. Lazzeri threw out West, Davis going to third. Vosmik hit to Rolfe and Davis was run down between third and home, Rolfe to Dickey to Rolfe. Vosmik reaching second on the play. Bell struck out.

YANKEES—Crossetti singled to left but was out trying to stretch it, Vosmik to Carey. Rolfe flied deep to Bell. Di Maggio singled to left center. Di Maggio took second on a passed ball. Gehrig hit a home run into the right-field stand, scoring behind Di Maggio. Dickey struck out. TWO RUNS.

SECOND — BROWNS—Clift popped to Gehrig. Knickerbocker singled to left. Vosmik tossed out Huffman. Knickerbocker going to second. Carey flied to Selkirk.

YANKEES—Lazzeri tripled to deep left center. Selkirk flied deep to Vosmik, Lazzeri scoring after the catch. Hoag's drive batted off Knickerbocker's leg into left field for two bases. Pearson popped to Carey. Crossetti flied deep to West. ONE RUN.

THIRD — BROWNS—Hogsett fouled to Gehrig. Davis walked. West singled to right, sending Davis to third. Vosmik lined to Di Maggio. Davis scoring after the catch. Pearson threw out Bell. ONE RUN.

YANKEES—Rolfe flied to West. DiMaggio singled to left. Gehrig singled to right, sending Davis to third. Dickey flied to Vosmik. Gehrig going to second after the catch while DiMaggio was held at third. Lazzeri was purposely passed, filling the bases. Selkirk grounded out to Davis.

FOURTH — BROWNS—Clift singled to left-center. Knickerbocker walked. Huffman also walked, filling the bases. Carey hit into a double play, Pearson to Dickey to Gehrig. Knickerbocker going to third and Huffman to second. Hogsett walked, again filling the bases. Davis struck out.

YANKEES—Hoag singled to left. Pearson sacrificed, Hogsett to Davis. Crossetti flied to Bell. Rolfe popped to Knickerbocker.

FIFTH — BROWNS—Lazzeri threw out West. Crossetti went deep behind second for Vosmik's grounder and threw him out, Rolfe threw out Bell.

YANKEES—Di Maggio lined to Clift. Gehrig doubled to right. Dickey flied to West. Lazzeri again was purposely passed. Selkirk flied to Vosmik.

SIXTH — BROWNS—Clift singled past Rolfe. Knickerbocker hit into a double play, Gehrig to Crossetti to Gehrig. Huffman struck out.

YANKEES—Carey tossed out Hoag. Pearson doubled to left. Knickerbocker threw out Crossetti, Pearson going to third. Carey threw out Rolfe.

SEVENTH — BROWNS—Carey singled to right. Bottomley batted for Hogsett and grounded out to Selkirk.

WELD, ACCUSED OF PASSING COUNTERFEIT HALF-DOLLAR

Ex-Convict Arrested on Complaint of News Dealer; Other Bogus Coins Found.
 A man who said he was John P. Hardy, a former convict, was arrested yesterday on a counterfeit charge and is held for Federal authorities.
 Harry Resnick, who sells newspapers at Twelfth boulevard and Olive street, pointed out the man to a traffic policeman after receiving a counterfeit 50-cent piece in payment for a magazine. Officers said they found two counterfeit 50-cent pieces in the prisoner's pockets and five more in his room at a Market street hotel. He said he had received 11 counterfeit coins from an acquaintance.

100 WOMEN LAWYERS IN FEDERAL SERVICE

Two Hundred Others Do Related Work Not Under Legal Classification.

By the Associated Press.
 WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Government's woman lawyers deal with everything from municipal bonds to foreign affairs. They are experts on such things as marketing agreements, taxes and court-martial orders.

More than 100 women are employed in Government departments and bureaus as attorneys. And 200 others with legal degrees do related work, though not under legal classification.

Many are veterans. A few are girls just out of law school. They make from $2000 to about $6000 a year.

A few, such as Miss Helen Carlsson of the Justice Department, travel all over the country arguing Uncle Sam's cases before high courts. Her briefs identify her as a special assistant to the Attorney-General handling important tax suits.

Louise Foster and Stella Akin also have high ranking in the Justice Department, which employs 30 women lawyers.

Miss Anna O'Neill writes opinions on international law for the State Department, where four of the 23 attorneys in that type of work are women.

Miss Elizabeth Rountree is only 30, but she has won praise for her work at the Public Works Administration, judging eligibility and legality of proceedings involving municipal co-operation.

Another who appears in district and circuit courts is Mrs. Mary Connor Myers, who handles marketing agreements and orders of the Secretary of Agriculture regulating agricultural commodities in interstate commerce.

The Treasury lists 17 women lawyers in the Bureau of Customs, the Bureau of Internal Revenue and other sections.

Outstanding is Miss Annabelle Matthews, former member of the Board of Tax Appeals, now in internal revenue service. She is a member of the chief counsel's committee which sifts varying opinions on difficult cases.

Almost every major department has one or more women attorneys. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, for example, employs three, among them Florence A. de Haas, who now is in Europe on her honeymoon. She was married May 10 to Louis Dembitz, nephew of Justice Brandeis.

WIDOW OF ATTORNEY C. L. MOSS DIES, AT 84, IN MEMPHIS, TENN.

As a Child Her Home Was in Bellefontaine Cemetery, Where She Will Be Buried.

Mrs. Anna L. Moss, widow of Charles L. Moss, attorney, died early today of pernicious anemia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edna M. Barker in Memphis, Tenn. She was 84 years old.

Mrs. Moss was born in Racine, Wis., and came to St. Louis when eight years old. Her father, Samuel Phillips, was assistant superintendent of Bellefontaine cemetery and during the Civil War she resided in a home on the cemetery grounds.

Well known in musical and art circles, she was one of the early members of the Wednesday Club. Until two years ago, she had resided here with her son, Phillips W. Moss, an attorney, who resides at 319 Rosedale avenue. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Wagoner Chapel, 3621 Olive street, with burial in Bellefontaine cemetery. Her grave will be only a short distance from the home in which she was reared.

CAPT. PRUSS' WIFE KNOWS HE WON'T GIVE UP FLYING

She Arrives in New York on Way to Husband, Injured in Hindenburg Disaster.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, May 21.—Mrs. Eleonore Pruss, wife of Capt. Max Pruss, commander of the dirigible Hindenburg, arrived today on the liner Deutschland. She said she would go at once to the Medical Center, where her husband is recovering from burns suffered in the wreck of his airship at Lakehurst, N. J.

Asked how she felt about her husband continuing to fly in dirigibles, she hesitated, then laughed. "That is his profession," she said. "I know my husband. He will continue."

She said she was at her home in Frankfurt-am-Main with her two children, Klaus, 10 years old, and Heinz, 5, when she was called by telephone at 4 a. m. by Mrs. Ernst Lehmann, whose husband, Capt. Lehmann, former commander of the ship, died of burns. Mrs. Lehmann told her of the tragedy.

Convicted of Aiding Robbers.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, May 21.—Leonard Habermann, ex-convict, was convicted in Federal Court yesterday of "aiding and abetting" robbers who held up the Northern Westchester Bank at Katonah March 12. The jury acquitted Joseph Heckl, who admitted receiving $600 of the loot in exchange for an automobile in which the robbers fled. Judge Grover M. Moscovitz declared Heckl's guilt was "in plain" it was "almost inconceivable" how the jury could have acquitted him.

ESTATE OF EDWIN E. CREBS LISTED AS WORTH $367,786

Made Up of Stocks and Bonds; Widow Gets Life Income, Residue to Son and Daughter.
 An inventory of the estate of Edwin E. Crebs, retired hardware merchant, who died at Los Angeles, March 15, was filed in Probate Court yesterday. Listing total property of $367,786, consisting entirely of stocks and bonds.

Included were corporation stocks valued at $354,911 and bonds listed at $12,875. The stocks consisted largely of holdings in the Ely-Walker Dry Goods Co. and railroad shares. Under the terms of the will, made in 1915, Mrs. Annie L. Crebs, the widow, is to receive a life income of $100 a month, or $10,000 in cash, in addition to a commission of 5 per cent of the estate for acting as executor. The residue of the estate is left to a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hey of Los Angeles, and a son, Edwin J. Crebs of Van Nuys, Cal.

 Maurice P. Phillips, attorney for the executor, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that, while Crebs' home and business were in Fairfield, Ill., he established legal residence in St. Louis many years ago. Mrs. Crebs resides at the Jefferson Hotel when in St. Louis.

FATHER'S SUIT FOR CUSTODY OF DAUGHTER IS DISMISSED

Lawyer Reports Indiana Man Didn't Answer Letter; Girl, 18, Prefers Present Home.
 A habeas corpus suit filed by William C. Rolf, Gary (Ind.) real estate dealer, for custody of his daughter, Leona Virginia, 18 years old, was dismissed yesterday in Circuit Court because of his failure to continue prosecution. The case was heard in part two months ago by Judge Charles B. Williams, at which time the Court postponed the trial in order to give Rolf an opportunity to effect a reconciliation.

However, Miss Rolf appeared yesterday before Judge William S. Connor, presiding in the absence of Judge Williams, and stated she preferred to remain with her cousin, Mrs. Otto J. Gibbons, 6128 Columbia avenue, who, with her husband, was named as defendant in the action. Since Rolf's lawyer stated he had been unable to communicate with his client, although he had written him, the dismissal was ordered.

Miss Rolf's mother is dead and she has resided at the Gibbons home for six years. At the preliminary trial Rolf's present wife testified she would be willing to adopt the girl and provide her a good home. The defense contended that Rolf abandoned her about 13 years ago but he explained that he lost trace of her.

DEATH IN MOTORBOAT LAID TO CARBON MONOXIDE

Victim Was Man Towing Logs on the St. Francis Near Kennett, Mo.
 KENNETT, Mo., May 21.—A Coroner's jury early today decided Fred Ensinger, 44 years old, a timber worker, was killed yesterday by carbon monoxide poisoning. Ensinger was found dead in a motorboat which was being used to tow logs up the St. Francis River. Apparently this is what happened: Ensinger's boat, carried by strong currents as he sought to turn from the river into a ditch, struck some willows and knocked him to the floor. His head struck a piece of metal, rendering him unconscious. The exhaust pipe from the inboard motor ended near his head. The motor was heard running for several hours yesterday afternoon by farmers but was stopped when the body was found last night by a searching party. The gasoline tank was dry. Ensinger lived alone in a cabin near the river.

CHICAGO STREET CAR MEN DEMAND 10 PCT WAGE RISE

Present Scale Runs From 77 to 85 Cents; Change in Working Conditions Sought.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A demand for a wage increase of 10 cents an hour and an adjustment of working conditions was made on the Chicago surface lines yesterday by the street car division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees in behalf of 11,000 union workers.

Surface lines officers estimated the wage increase and adjustments would add $10,000,000 a year to the pay rolls.

NEW SCULLIN STEEL REORGANIZATION PLAN

Proposal to Meet Objections of Holders of Bonds and Preference Stock.

A modified plan of reorganization for the Scullin Steel Co., designed to meet objections of bondholders and holders of preference stock, was filed by the company today in United States District Court.

The $3,062,500 first mortgage bond issue, which was to have been extended 15 years under the original plan with reduction of fixed interest from 6 to 3 per cent, would be replaced under the new plan with an equal issue convertible in to new common stock before Oct. 1, 1944, at the rate of 30 shares for each $1000 bond, which would also carry warrants for purchase of 20 shares of common at $10 a share. New bonds would receive fixed interest of 3 per cent and an additional 3 per cent if earned.

Owners of 100,000 shares of preference stock, who were to have received equal amounts of new common under the original plan, would get 14 shares of new common for each share of preferred under the amended plan.

Holders of 30,000 shares of common, who were to have got 15,000 shares of new common, would get 5000 shares of new common under the modified plan.

The new plan provides that owners of $1,497,000 in debentures, who were to have received equivalent face amounts of new preferred stock, will get 20 shares of new common for each $1000 note.

There were no other substantial changes in the original plan as submitted last January.

BOND OF USED CAR DEALER SOUGHT IN THEFTS FORFEITED

Eugene Tebeau, Charged With Selling Stolen Auto, Again Falls to Appear in Court.

The $1500 common law bond of Eugene Tebeau, former convict who operated a used automobile agency at 4619 Delmar boulevard, was declared forfeited today by Judge Joseph L. Simpson in Court of Criminal Correction. Tebeau failed to appear in court Monday, when his case, on a charge of selling a stolen car, was called.

Since Tebeau gave the $1500 bond, other machines, said by the police to have been stolen, have been traced to his agency, and the number has reached 13. This means a number of new charges, on each of which Tebeau would be required to furnish a new bond if he were to appear now. Harry Wern, 5044 North Kingshighway, is surety on the $1500 bond.

JUDGE Voids INJUNCTION BUT SLOT MACHINES ARE GONE

Joliet Judge, Whose Order Balked Authorities for Year, to Explain Later.

JOLIET, Ill., May 21.—Judge Edwin L. Wilson, target of impeachment threats in the State dissolved a temporary injunction which had restrained authorities for more than a year from interfering with the operation of slot machines in Will County. Sheriff Michael Breen said the slot machines, which he estimated at more than 1000, were removed by the operators a week ago.

In announcing the dissolution of the injunction, Judge Wilson said: "It is not incumbent on any trial court to give any reason for any decision. However, because of the great public interest in this case, I hope to place a written opinion in the file after I have had an opportunity to get one in shape."

HEARING SET IN NEW YORK MARITIME UNION DISPUTE

N. I. R. B. to Consider on May 27 Petition of C. I. O. Adherents for an Election.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Labor Relations Board today ordered a hearing May 27 in New York City on the petition of the National Maritime Union for an election among the cooks and stewards and deck hands employed by three steamship companies.

The National Maritime Union disputes the claim of the Marine Cooks and Stewards' Union and the Eastern and Gulf Sailors' Association to represent these seamen. The National Maritime Union is negotiating for membership in the Committee for Industrial Organization, while the other two unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The election would involve 8850 seamen, 7500 of whom work for the International Mercantile Marine. The Luckenbach Steamship Co., Inc. and the Black Diamond Steamship Corporation also are involved.

J. L. McKinney, Oil Man, Dies. TITUSVILLE, Pa., May 21.—John L. McKinney, 94 years old, pioneer oil producer in Pennsylvania, died yesterday. His early wells were on Oil Creek, near Titusville, site of the first oil strike. Later he continued as a producer until Standard Oil bought his interests and he then became president of South Penn Oil Co., subsidiary of Standard.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO SPEND $11,000,000 MORE ON RIVERS

Figures This Amount Will Be Available in Addition to $30,000,000 Budgeted for Flood Control.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Roosevelt disclosed today a plan whereby, he said, $11,000,000 could be spent on emergency flood works in the Ohio Valley without affecting the budget.

Relating a conversation he had with Congressman Whittington (Dem.), Mississippi, chairman of the House Flood Control Committee, the President said it had been found that amount of money for relief labor in cities on the Ohio where it is most needed.

He said the expenditure would be in addition to the $30,000,000 provided in the budget for the fiscal year and might run a higher because other methods of financing were being explored.

He said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation might be included in the consolidated financing of projects in cities where populations near the river banks could be moved to higher ground and the shore lines be turned into playgrounds.

HAUPTMANN CASE PROSECUTOR ON STAND

Wilentz, Final Government Witness, Didn't Know Parker Visited Kidnapers at Night.

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., May 21.—The Government rested its case today against Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington County detectives, and his son, Ellis Jr., who are accused of a conspiracy to violate the Federal Lindbergh law in the kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer.

Attorney-General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, whose death was delayed by Wendel's false Lindbergh kidnapping, was the final witness called by United States Attorney John J. Quinn. The trial opened before Federal Judge William Clark April 27.

Judge Clark adjourned the trial until next Wednesday, leaving Tuesday open for arguments on defense motions, among them an expected move for a direct verdict of acquittal.

Wilentz testified that Parker, on the eve of Hauptmann's trial for the Lindbergh kidnapping murder, had disclaimed any knowledge of the case.

Hauptmann Case Prosecutor on Stand

Wilentz, Final Government Witness, Didn't Know Parker Visited Kidnapers at Night.

NEWARK, N. J., May 21.—The Government rested its case today against Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington County detectives, and his son, Ellis Jr., who are accused of a conspiracy to violate the Federal Lindbergh law in the kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer.

Attorney-General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, whose death was delayed by Wendel's false Lindbergh kidnapping, was the final witness called by United States Attorney John J. Quinn. The trial opened before Federal Judge William Clark April 27.

Judge Clark adjourned the trial until next Wednesday, leaving Tuesday open for arguments on defense motions, among them an expected move for a direct verdict of acquittal.

Wilentz Testimony.
Wilentz testified that Parker, on the eve of Hauptmann's trial for the Lindbergh kidnapping murder, had disclosed any knowledge of the case when questioned by the Attorney-General's office.

He said the senior Parker had never sought his permission to visit Hauptmann in the State prison death house.

"I never heard Parker had visited Hauptmann until I read it in the paper this morning," Wilentz said. He referred to accounts of testimony given yesterday by Col. Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper at the prison while Hauptmann was there, who revealed for the first time publicly that Parker had visited the death house at night to talk to the man later electrocuted for the Lindbergh crime. Kimberling is now head of the State police.

Col. Kimberling made the disclosure as a Government witness.

Kimberling Testimony.
He could not give the exact dates of the Parker visits but said he believed the last was before July 1, 1935, less than five months after Hauptmann was taken to the Trenton prison, after his conviction at Flemington.

On the last visit, Kimberling said Parker was accompanied by his secretary, who "at my suggestion" wore a man's topcoat.

Kimberling asserted he gave his permission for the visits, but he was prevented by a defense objection from disclosing who made the request. Prior to yesterday's testimony, the only State official publicly known to have visited him was Gov. Hoffman, who repeatedly expressed his belief Hauptmann's execution was not the final solution of the Lindbergh case.

The Governor's night visit was made Oct. 17, 1935 and was disclosed by Hoffman himself a month and a half later. At the same time he said Parker, a friend, was conducting an independent investigation of the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Parker also expressed doubt that Hauptmann's conviction was the complete answer to the case.

The Parkers are charged with plotting the abduction of Wendel, whose "confession" that he kidnapped the Lindbergh child delayed for three days Hauptmann's electrocution. The "confession," allegedly obtained through torture, was repudiated, Wendel was cleared and Hauptmann went to the electric chair April 3, 1936.

WOMAN SAYS SHE SLEPT FOR 3 HOURS AFTER KILLING

Body of Musician Stabbed to Death in Next Room; She Tells of Struggle.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Police investigators said Mrs. Helen Klein, 38 years old, told them today she had slept for three hours while the body of Eugenio Furlas, 46, a stabbing victim, lay in an adjoining room.

"I was so mad that I went in the bedroom, slammed the door and went to sleep," she said.

She admitted under questioning, police said, that Furlas, a musician, had been stabbed while she struggled with him for possession of a six-inch paring knife yesterday. After the stabbing, police said, she put the knife back in the kitchen table drawer.

Five hours later she led police to the apartment she shared with Furlas. They found two knife wounds in his chest. Mrs. Klein, a widow, said he had threatened her with the knife.

MISSOURI LIONS PICK OFFICERS

Representative Paul Jones Heads Eastern District.

ROLLA, Mo., May 21.—The state convention of Lions Clubs elected State Representative Paul C. Jones of Kennett and the Rev. D. C. Jensen of Lexington as district governors Tuesday.

Jones was chosen for District 26, comprising the eastern half of Missouri, for which William J. Moore of Webster Groves was elected state director. Jones appointed William C. Rosenbaum of Ferguson secretary for the district. The Rev. Mr. Jensen was elected for District 26B, which includes the western half of the state. Dr. L. T. Melton of Marshfield was named state director and T. Ballard Waters was re-appointed secretary of the district. The delegates selected Joplin as the 1938 convention site.

FARM ORGANIZATIONS OBJECT TO PUTTING ASIDE AAA BILL

E. A. O'Neal Says No More Time Is Needed for Study; Principles Have Been Approved.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Proposals to postpone congressional consideration of the proposed Agricultural Adjustment bill until next year drew objections today from national farm organizations sponsoring the legislation.

Congressional leaders have suggested the measure be laid over until next session because of economy demands and to give Congressmen and farmers more time to study it.

"Farmers need no more time to study the program," said Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. "They are well acquainted with its principles and approved them."

He said the program, providing for production control, crop insurance, soil conservation and the "ever-normal granary," had been laid before farmers in the Midwest at meetings before it was submitted to Congress.

SALE OF CERTAIN ASSETS OF GROVE ESTATE APPROVED

$120,000 Raised by This Method to Pay Attorneys' Fees, Debts and Legacies.

Sale of certain assets in the estates of the late Edwin W. Grove Jr., wealthy board chairman of the Paris Medicine Co., who died in 1934, was approved today by Probate Judge A. Evan Hughes of St. Louis County, on petition of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., executor of the estate.

The assets consisted of 26 shares of the Grove Laboratory, Inc., having a par value of $100 a share, sold for $3850 a share or $100,100, and a share in a royalty contract between Edwin W. Grove Sr. and the Paris Medicine Co. for $25,000 a year, for $20,000. Edwin W. Grove Jr. had assigned $20,000 a year of this contract to Mrs. Edwin W. Grove Jr.

The purchaser of both assets was a son of Edwin W. Grove Jr., James H. Grove, who informed the executor that he was purchasing the stock for a brother, Edwin W. Grove III, and a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Grove Bland, and the royalty contract for his mother. Sale of the assets was necessary to pay attorneys' fees, administrative expenses, debts and legacies, the executor's petition stated. On April 26, a claim of $20,000 by Louise Mayorga of New York, said to have been a show girl, was allowed against the estate.

C. P. NOELL FILES RETURN IN U. S. CIRCUIT COURT

Seeks Delay Until Appeal in District Court Disbarment Case Against Him Is Decided.

Charles P. Noell, suspended from practice of law in State courts for two years last June 30, filed his return yesterday to an order of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to show cause why his name should not be struck from the rolls of that court.

He asked the Court to take no action on its order, pending determination by it of the appeal of United States Attorney Harry C. Blanton from the dismissal by United States District Judge Charles B. Davis of Blanton's petition to disbar Noell in District Court. He set up the same defense made against Blanton's petition, that he had not received a complete legal hearing before the St. Louis Court of Appeals, which suspended him for unprofessional conduct in connection with damage suits against railroads.

SCHOOL OF MINES GRADUATION

103 to Get Degrees at Commencement May 28.

ROLLA, Mo., May 21.—One hundred three degrees will be awarded at the School of Mines and Metallurgy commencement exercises May 28. The commencement week program will start on Sunday, May 23, when the Right Rev. Walter Mitchell, Bishop of Arizona, will preach the baccalaureate.

On May 27, Director and Mrs. Fulton will hold their annual reception to students, faculty and visitors, followed by the commencement ball. On May 28, the commencement address will be delivered by Enoch B. Needles, a graduate of the School of Mines of the class of 1914, now a consulting engineer in New York City. The presentation of the commissions in the reserve officers' training corps will be made by Brigadier-General E. M. Stayton of the Missouri National Guard.

LOS ANGELES C I O GARMENT WORKERS WIN BRIEF STRIKE

1400 of 2000 Back at Work After 65 Concerns Sign Closed Shop and Wage Agreements.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 21.—Less than 24 hours after it was called, a strike of garment workers was virtually ended today, with 1400 of the 2000 strikers back at work.

Union leaders said 65 concerns had signed new union agreements, granting closed shops, a 12 per cent wage increase, and overtime pay demands.

The strike, called by two local union affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization, affected about 120 shops.

Employees of Niedringhaus, Inc., 5739 Natural Bridge avenue, manufacturers of metalware, received wage increases of 10 to 20 per cent and a five-day week under an agreement signed yesterday by the company and Hugh Lyons, organizer for the C I O Steel Workers' Organizing Committee.

The Steel Workers' Organizing Committee is recognized as sole bargaining agent for the 280 employees, who will have a 40-hour week. Lyons said the plant formerly operated six days a week and minimum wages were 48 cents an hour.

BELGIAN PREMIER TO GIVE TRADE REPORT TO ROOSEVELT

Tells French Foreign Minister That He Is Now Able to Draft Statement.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 21.—Premier Paul van Zeeland told French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos today he was now able to draft a detailed report of European economic conditions to present to President Roosevelt in Washington next month.

The Belgian Premier, an internationally known expert in finance, has undertaken—at the behest of England and France—to see Roosevelt and other statesmen in hopes of finding ways to lift world trade barriers.

Van Zeeland and Delbos, continuing their conversations, were said to have exchanged views on the new status of Belgium in the peace structure of western Europe since its return to its old neutrality policy.

Authoritative sources said the discussions touched on how Belgium might be fitted in as a link between other powers in a pact to replace the Locarno Security Treaty, nullified by Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland.

VETERAN FILM EDITOR
DISCUSSES HIS CRAFT
Daniel Mandell Says Timing
Gags Is His Hardest Problem.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—To Daniel Mandell, film editor, and the rest of his celluloid snipping brethren, a laugh in a motion picture is just so much poison.

Mandell will confess that this reaction is selfish in the extreme, and agrees that motion pictures with laughs are, at the moment, making more money than any other type of screen entertainment. Nevertheless he would much prefer to stick together a 15-reel film, than an eight-reel farce, and has not hampered his grimly determined efforts on "Woman Chases Man," which opens next Friday at Loew's Theater in St. Louis.

"Laughs," Mandell (who was once a vaudeville comedy acrobat) says, "center up a picture and drive a film editor mad. That is, it would drive him mad if it weren't that being bounced on the head as an acrobat has probably made him mad in the first place or he wouldn't be a film editor."

"You see, when a film is being edited, the cutter must bear in mind that where there is a laugh, of dialogue or action, spacing must be timed so that the audiences' guffaws won't drown out the following dialogue. As a result, a comedy must be padded with 'bare spots' where dialogue ceases, yet action continues. It is impossible for a director to shoot his picture this way; it is up to the cutter to figure it out after the film is made."

After the first preview of "Woman Chases Man," Mandell threw up his hands in despair. Laughs were so sustained that nobody could hear dialogue and there wasn't any bare time on hand for padding. The only cure was to re-shoot some of the picture and tone down the comedy.

Mandell has been a head cutter, editor, since 1920. He says a film cutter is always running into new problems, most of which are too technical to be understood by anybody but a brother cutter. However, most difficulties are generally caused to an extent on the sort of thing that gave Mandell the worst headache of his career—a lengthy picture which he cut some years ago.

"The film," he recalls, "was comedy, when the producer decided it didn't like half of it, and ordered it remade. None of the original organization of writers, script boys and directors was with the studio any more and a new group was enlisted."

As a result lighting and action didn't match and there was no way to make them do so. There was the great sequence of troops going over the top at dawn. The respective cameramen on the picture had different ideas on how dawn scenes should be lighted and as a result the various action 'cuts' saw the day growing bright and dim with every change of angle. Being mild man I can only say that the finished product was atrocious."

During his 17 years of cutting, Mandell has edited 70 feature productions and two-reelers without number. Among his best known and more recent jobs, have been "Good Fairy," "Diamond Jim," "Holiday," "Animal Kingdom," "Counselor-at-Law," "Rebound," "You Only Live Once," "These Three" and "Dodsworth." His next film will be "Dead End," from the great New York stage success produced by Norman Bel Geddes. It went into production last week.

DAYS DEPENDENT PARENTS
EXPLOIT CHILD ACTORS

Special Worker Who Tutors Juveniles Resents Their Role as Meal Tickets.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—America today, says Birdina Alarson, a social worker, is the group of children who work in the movies. "It isn't the studios who take advantage of them," she said. "It's their own parents."

Miss Anderson, a member of the state Welfare Board, and an accredited school teacher, spends most of her time tutoring juvenile actors. The Board of Education provides a number of teachers to protect these children.

"There are many parents," said Miss Anderson, "who will do anything to attract the attention of leading directors to their children, and it's the children who suffer. The mothers and fathers of about 10 per cent of all the children who work in pictures have these earnings as their only livelihood. The child, in short, is the meal ticket. This blamed movie-struck parents multiply for little girls who go around wearing hair and studied cuteness to be seen on every street corner in Hollywood."

Anderson Gets New Name in Movies.

HOLLYWOOD, May 21.—Gypsy Rose Lee, former strip tease dancer, will shed her name instead of be presented as a dramatic actress, said her producer, Darryl Zanuck, "because we feel it appropriate that she should make her film debut under her own name, Gypsy Rose Lee."

Miss Hovick's new movie will be "The Other

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
CHINO DISCOVERED TO BE IDEAL 'LOCATION TOWN'
California Villages Rivals Hollywood for Variety of Settings.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—A sleepy little community formerly inhabited solely by Chinese—hence called Chino by the Spaniards—it has become the movies' favorite location town.

It provided the chalk hills and blowing pampas you saw in "The Plainsman." It provided the New England countryside and gullows hill in "Maid of Salem." It is Titusville, Pa., for Irene Dunne's current picture, "High, Wide and Handsome," a bit of Arkansas Ozarks for the Bob Burns-Martha Raye comedy, "Mountain Music."

Away from roaring motor cars and zooming planes, Chino is about two hours' drive from Hollywood. Will Rogers gave the town its impetus in the picture industry. A choice location spot of his was a farm home known as the old Ashcroft place, which shortly is to be submerged in 40 feet of water.

It is at this farm that "High, Wide and Handsome" is now going forward. Irene Dunne and Randolph Scott, the principals of the piece, "dwell" in the farmhouse. Sheep gambol on the green hillside nearby. A replica of the world's first oil drill has been reared there.

STOKOWSKI ON MOVIE MUSIC
Says Sound Effects Will Be Better Than Nature.

By the Associated Press.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—Canned music, the long-scorched product of the laboratory, soon will surpass the living music of the concert hall, Leopold Stokowski predicted this week.

"It will possess the beat of the human heart," the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra conductor said. Some day, Stokowski thinks, all may hear the great voice of a symphony orchestra as he hears it in the center of a hundred instrumentalists.

"There is power, then, and clearness—individuality of instrument and a collective flood of melody," he went on to say. "The listener at a distance doesn't hear it this way." The conductor's optimism is partly based on his own acoustical researches here and on new discoveries he has encountered at the studios.

Dancer Collects Dance Movies.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 21.—Because she feels that the tap dance of today is the basis of an American folk dance of the future, Eleanor Powell has requested famous screen and stage dancers to make motion pictures of how to do their individual dance steps. Those asked are Fred Astaire, Ruby Keller, George Murphy, Ray Bolger, Ray Long Jr., Buddy Ebsen and Charles Collins.

REVISED STATE PRISON CONTRACTS APPROVED

P W A Administrator Ickes Rules on Change Necessitated by Rising Costs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Public Works Administration announced yesterday Administrator Harold Ickes had approved revision of contracts for the rehabilitation of the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City to add $244,637 to the cost of the work. The P W A will provide 30 per cent of the increased cost.

The State asked for P W A approval of revision of the contracts, made last July, because of rising costs. The contracts have not been carried out because the P W A withheld until recently its share of the funds.

Ickes approved the revision upon recommendation of Col. Horatio B. Hackett, deputy administrator. C. A. Haskins, chief engineer and architect of the Missouri Bi-Partisan Board, left for home last night after spending several days in conference with Hackett and his aids.

Ickes stipulated all the increased costs go for labor and materials, and that none of it be for contractors' profits or overhead. A spokesman for Ickes said the P W A, in approving upward revision of the contracts, sought to "play fair" with contractors, who submitted bids nearly a year ago. Approval of the contracts, however, was withheld because Sanford Bates, recently resigned chief of the Federal Prison Bureau, objected to plans for overhauling the Jefferson City penitentiary.

A compromise was recently worked out under which the P W A released $1,277,000 for the Missouri prison program. The revised program calls for a new penal colony away from the main prison, in addition to rehabilitation of the old institution.

P W A officials said the plan to add $244,637 to the old contracts would be much cheaper than calling for new bids. They estimated labor and material costs have increased at least $500,000 in the last year.

Ickes' approval of the revision of contracts, it was said, clears the way for Missouri to proceed with rehabilitation of the Jefferson City penitentiary.

New Contract Is for $149,204 More Than Original Bid.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 21.—Edgar M. Eagan, executive secretary of the State Building Commission, and yesterday the Public Works Administration had approved a new general construction contract total of $2,140,204 for the State penitentiary here.

That figure, he said, is $149,204, or 7.5 per cent higher than the original bid of the Boyle-Pryor Construction Company, which submitted 10 months ago, and will enable the company to take care of increases in costs for labor and materials.

C. A. Haskins, chief engineer and architect for Missouri Bi-Partisan Board, returned today from a conference with Federal authorities in Washington.

Eagan said a later conference would be held to discuss the $95,433 while the State has asked be added to original contract figures for lighting, heating, plumbing and ventilation work at the prison.

AMERICANS AT GERMAN SERVICE HONORING STEUBEN

Ambassador Dodd Speaks at Unveiling of Tablet to German Who Aided Colonies.

By the Associated Press.
MAGDESBURG, Germany, May 21.—Germans and Americans joined here today in a manifestation of friendship amid an outbreak of Nazi-controlled press criticism of the United States.

A tablet to the memory of Baron Friedrich Wilhelm August von Steuben, the Prussian General who fought on the side of the colonies in the American Revolution, was unveiled at Magdesburg City Hall and later affixed to a new post office on the site of the church where Baron von Steuben was christened. Although the General was born here in 1730, the exact place is not known.

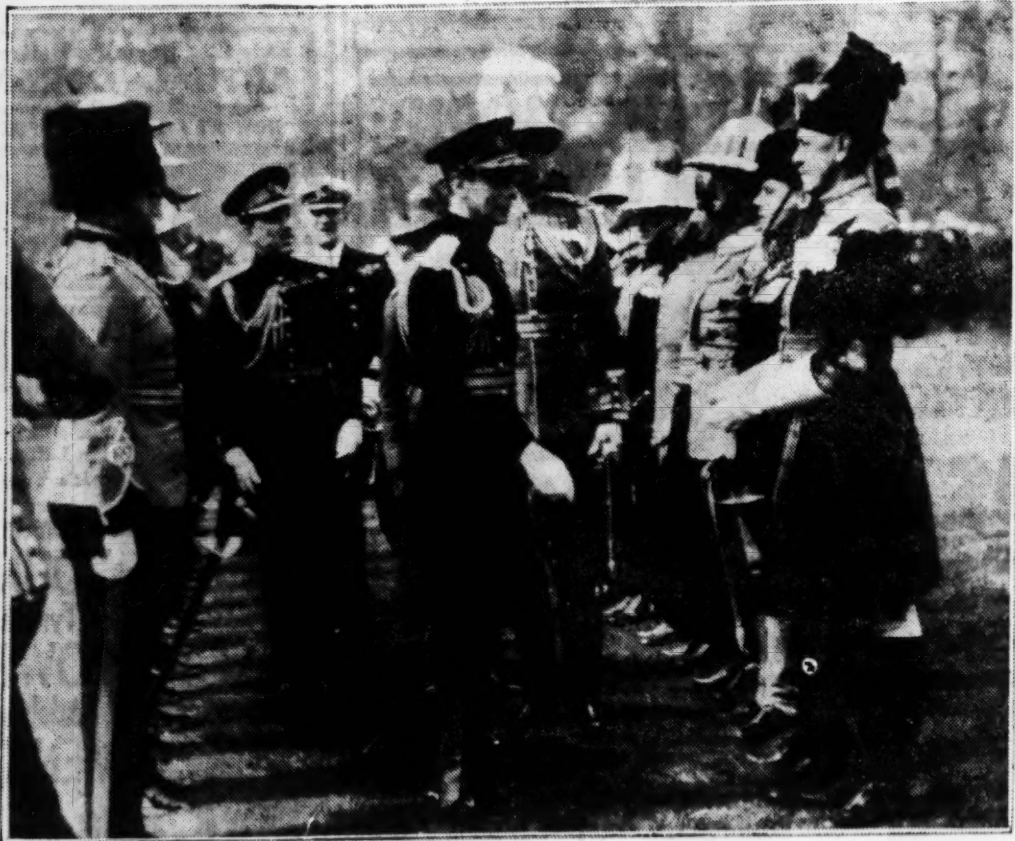

United States Ambassador William E. Dodd spoke at the ceremony. Lord Mayor Dr. Markmann of Magdesburg eulogized German-American co-operation. Many members of the Berlin American colony attended.

CONVICTED OF PART IN KILLING Negro Found Guilty in Philadelphia Church Worker's Death.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—William Jordan, 36-year-old Negro, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter last night for the killing five years ago of Norman R. Bechtel, Mennonite Church worker.

Judge Albert S. C. Millar deferred sentence pending an appeal for a new trial. The maximum sentence would be six to 12 years. Jordan repudiated from the witness stand yesterday a statement which he gave to police. He testified he was beaten until he signed the statement. The statement said Jordan and three other Negroes, all of whom are awaiting trial, saw Bechtel stabbed by Oliver Armstrong, Negro. Armstrong died three years ago.

King Gives Medals to Colonial Troops

GEORGE VI is shown inspecting 1500 troops who were reviewed from Buckingham Palace in Coronation week. A special coronation medal went to each soldier.

ANCIENT SCRIBES' ERRORS PLAGUE MODERN SCHOLARS

Variances for Names of Towns One of Most Confusing; Dr. Romanoff Writes.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 21.—Scribes in the old days were not always accurate, and their errors have caused modern scholars and archaeologists a lot of trouble, says Dr. Paul Romanoff, curator of the museum of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, who sets out to correct those errors in "Onomasticon of Palestine," a new book.

The book describes a new methodology for dealing with biblical and post-biblical Palestinian topography which is intended to aid archaeologists in determining the findings and value of their excavations.

Dr. Romanoff first conceived his theory when he encountered trouble during the excavations of the third wall of Jerusalem and topographical work for the Government of Palestine. He contends that in translations from early Hebrew into Latin and Greek, scribes carelessly gave variants to the names of villages and towns mentioned in the Bible and the Talmud. The result has been that researchers have looked for towns which never existed or already have been discovered.

The village of Kefar Ikos, first mentioned by Josephus, has no less than 70 variants in the Talmud, Dr. Romanoff pointed out by way of illustration.

DR. MIDDLEBUSH ADVOCATES BROAD ENGINEERING COURSES

"Must Extend Beyond Technical Training" If They Are to Assume New Responsibility.

Engineers must carry their education beyond mere technical training if they are to assume broader responsibilities which are being thrust upon them, Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University of Missouri, said last night at the sixty-ninth anniversary dinner of the Engineers' Club of St. Louis at the Congress Hotel.

Although no steps are being taken to lengthen the course at the School of Engineering at Columbia, Dr. Middlebush said, "it may well be true that the day is drawing near when engineering, as in the case of the study of medicine and law, will require a certain amount of college training for entrance. Within the limits of the student's time, the school is placing its first emphasis on straight-forward engineering training for technical purposes and encouraging students also to take courses in economics, sociology and related fields."

Thomas J. Skinner was installed as president of the organization. Other new officers are: E. L. Ohle, H. Austill and J. G. Rosebrough Jr., vice-presidents; C. P. Potter, treasurer, and J. W. Cooper, L. A. Pettus and L. J. Sverdrup, directors.

ILLINOIS DIVORCE LAW CHALLENGED BY JUDGE

He Orders Witness to Name Co-respondent in Case; Holds Statute Invalid.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 21.—Challenging the constitutionality of a new State law prohibiting the naming of co-respondents in divorce cases on penalty of prison sentence, Superior Court Judge Joseph E. David ordered a witness to identify a "John Doe" co-respondent yesterday or be jailed for contempt of court.

The witness, Hazel Kamke, housemaid, obeyed the court and named a Milwaukee man as the man she said she saw with Mrs. Edward C. Kuehn, 35, of Chicago, in a cottage at Lake of the Falls, Wis., near Mercer. Mrs. Kuehn was charged with misconduct by her husband, a real estate broker.

Before ordering the man in the case identified Judge David called on the State's Attorney's office to waive criminal prosecution against the court or any witnesses who might name the co-respondent. Assistant State's Attorney Gerald Hornidge refused. The judge then said the statute interferes with judicial administration and the Supreme Court should test its constitutionality.

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ENTERTAINMENTS

The St. Louis Writers' Guild will meet Tuesday evening in the Winston Churchill Apartments, Cabanne and Belt avenues. Mrs. Katherine Darst and Mrs. Harry Pugh Smith will speak.

Kingdom House settlement will hold its field day and picnic tomorrow in Forest Park on Grounds 10 and 11. Trucks will leave Kingdom House at 9 a. m.

The St. Vladimir Ukrainian Orthodox Church will give a banquet at noon Sunday under auspices of Wasyl V. Kokorudz, at the Ukrainian National Home, 1523 Hickory street.

The Teachers' Union of St. Louis and St. Louis County will hold its first public meeting since the repeal of the St. Louis Board of Education rule forbidding teachers to join a union, at Cabanne Library tonight at 8 o'clock.

A mass meeting will be held at Maplewood Junior High School at 8 o'clock tonight to hear William A. Allen speak on the subject "Taxes."

The annual spring outing of the Ministerial Alliance will be held Monday at Eden Theological Seminary. Wives of ministers have been invited to attend also.

COURT MARTIAL OUSTS CHIEF OF STAFF OF SALVATION ARMY

Henry W. Mapp Opposed General Evangeline Booth for Commander.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 21.—A secret court martial of the Salvation Army today dismissed Henry W. Mapp, 70-year-old chief of staff. The nature of the charges was not revealed.

Discharge of the veteran who has been in the Salvation Army for 50 years and acted as its chief of staff since 1929 came after General Evangeline Booth, commander-in-chief, insisted on a court martial, composed of five senior officers.

General Booth had the power to discharge any member of the great organization but forced the trial, officers disclosed, "because she did not want it said she had eliminated a man whose influence in the army was General Booth's strongest rival for the post of commander."

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS ABATE IN POLAND; RELIEF ORGANIZED

Many Refugees Return to Homes; 184 Arrested for Riots During Rioting, Property Returned.

By the Associated Press.
WARSAW, Poland, May 21.—Anti-Jewish outbreaks throughout Poland which have led to riots and plundering of shops abated last night as some refugees returned to their homes.

Jews in nearly all towns and villages started organizing relief committees, while additional financial aid from American sources was forthcoming for Jews in Brzesc and Brest-Litovsk, scene of the most serious disorders.

Police arrested 184 persons in Brzesc after searching houses to recover goods stolen from Jewish shops in riots a week ago. The property was returned to owners, but Jewish shops remained closed. The Warsaw Jewish press said it was beyond the ability of Polish Jews to make up damage caused in Brzesc, estimated at $500,000, and asked Jews of the world for relief funds. Brzesc has about 30,000 Jews among its 60,000 inhabitants.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT REJECTS CATHOLIC PLEDGE TO KING

It Objects to Use of Titles Similar to Those Used by Church of England.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 21.—The Catholic magazine, The Universe, said last night the Government had refused to submit to King George VI an address in which Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops of Great Britain reaffirmed the loyalty of British Catholics to the throne.

The publication declared Home Secretary Sir John Simon, through whose hands the communication had to pass, said he was "unable to submit" to the monarch an address in which the Archbishops and Bishops, in their signatures, used "territorial designations which cannot be recognized in official communications."

It was understood the Government objected to titles such as Archbishop of London and Bishop of Durham, which are also used by the Church of England, the established church.

The Government's explanation was similar to one given when a Roman Catholic address of loyalty to the late King George V was rejected at the time of his silver jubilee celebration May 6, 1935.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS NOW AT SHAW'S GARDEN

Iris and Peony Exhibits in Prime; Annual Spring Flower Show to Open.

By the Associated Press.
There will be special attractions for visitors at Shaw's Garden tomorrow and Sunday, with thousands of flowers on display, more than at any other period this year.

The Iris garden, where there are more than a thousand varieties, and the peony garden next to it, compose more than an acre of massed blooms, in countless combinations of colors and shades. Sunday has been declared Iris Sunday. Superintendent George Pring announced.

In the Floral Display House, beginning tomorrow at 1 p. m., and lasting through Sunday, the annual spring flower show of the St. Louis Horticultural Society will be held. There will be entries in more than 300 classes of annuals, roses, perennials, flowering trees and shrubs, peonies, vines and decorative arrangements for baskets, vases and tables. Novelty exhibits also will be on display.

SUSPECT IN BANK ROBBERY ARRAIGNED IN E. ST. LOUIS

Federal Warrant Charges Willard Long With $7000 Holdup at Plymouth, Mich.

Willard Long, identified by fingerprints as one of two men sought for the $7000 holdup of a Plymouth (Mich.) bank May 5, was arraigned today on a Federal warrant charging bank robbery before Arthur Felsen, United States Commissioner in East St. Louis. He was held under $50,000 bond and removed to the county jail at Belleville.

A hearing will be held Monday morning before Felsen on removal of Long to Plymouth to face the bank robbery charge. When arrested last Tuesday in the Broadview Hotel, Long identified himself as William O'Brien, a "gambler and trick seller." He had $1340 in his room and offered Sam Strautz, Chief of Police Sam Strautz if he would let him get to the door of police headquarters.

A woman arrested with Long also is being held.

MAN'S FOURTH ATTEMPT TO KILL SELF SUCCEEDS

August Heller Dies in Hospital; Wife Found Him Wounded by Pistol Shot.

August Heller, 52, Windsor parkway, died at City Hospital last night of a self-inflicted bullet wound of the head.

He was found in the basement of his home yesterday morning by his wife, Hannah, who heard a shot. An automatic pistol was "in his hand. Mrs. Heller told her husband had made three previous attempts to end his life.

Heller, 57 years old, recently sold a filling station he operated in South St. Louis.

Wrecking of Old Wabash Bridge. The second of seven spans of the old Wabash Railroad Bridge across the Missouri River at St. Charles was dynamited today by a wrecking company. The first span was dynamited last week. Both were over land on the St. Louis County side.

FIVE MEMBERS OF BELLEVILLE FAMILY DIE IN FOUR MONTHS

Mrs. Katherine Faltus of Belleville Was 73 Years Old; Funeral Tomorrow.

Mrs. Katherine Faltus, 73-year-old widow, 401 West Lincoln street, Belleville, died of complications yesterday in St. Elizabeth's Hospital. She was the fifth member of her family to die in four months.

Her son, George P. Faltus, 42, was killed Feb. 17 when his automobile was struck by a train in Belleville. Last Thursday night her grandson, Vernon Schilling, 12, was accidentally shot to death by a playmate in Joplin, Mo. A nephew, John Rensing Jr., died in February, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bart Faltus, died in March.

Five sons and a daughter survive Mrs. Faltus. The funeral will be tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral with burial in Green Mount Cemetery.

ROBBER GETS 5-YEAR TERM

Joseph Borak Pleads Guilty of Holding Up Filling Station.

Joseph Borak, 29 years old, pleaded guilty today to a charge of holding up a filling station at 3707 Page boulevard, April 9. Circuit Judge John W. Joynt, following a recommendation of the Circuit Attorney's office, sentenced Borak to five years in the penitentiary.

In the robbery, $12 was taken from the attendant in charge, App Smith. Borak told police he lived at 3652 Evans avenue.

EDWARD GIVES UP
PLANS FOR CHURCH
MARRIAGE SERVICE

Seemingly No Anglican Clergyman Is Willing to Wed Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson.

BRIDAL TOUR WILL START AT BIARRITZ

Pair Plan to Cruise to Adriatic; British Government Has Denied Them Naval Escort.

By the Associated Press.
MONTES, France, May 21.—There will be no religious ceremony to wed Edward, Duke of Windsor, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, Herman L. Rogers announced tonight.
He refused to say why the plans for a religious service, to follow the civil service on June 3, had been abandoned, but it was known that Edward and his fiancée had been trying, without success, to find an Anglican pastor who would marry them despite the Church of England's stand against remarriage of divorced persons and its constant opposition to this particular marriage.

Hugh L. Thomas, British Embassy Counselor at Paris, was at the Chateau de Candé with Edward and Mrs. Simpson today, presumptively on the question of a religious service, but Rogers would not say whether Thomas had anything to do with the decision not to have such a service.

Consul at Nantes to Attend.
Rogers said the British consul from Nantes would attend the civil ceremony in an unofficial capacity.
The British Government still is opposed to any public recognition of the marriage and no member of the royal family will come here.

Mrs. D. E. Merriman, Mrs. Simpson's "Aunt Bessie," arrived at the chateau today from the United States. Just ahead of her were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bates, Americans described as "personal friends of the Duke." They will stay over the weekend.

Edward and Bates set out for 18 days of golf, with Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Bates trailing. When Mr. Merriman arrived, Mrs. Simpson left the house to greet her.

Naval Protection Refused.
The British Government was reported today to have denied Edward the protection of the British navy for a honeymoon cruise down the coast of Spain.

The British Government was said to have refused the request in view of naval incidents, growing out of the Spanish conflict, that increased international tension. A report that Edward had planned to use the Duke of Westminster's yacht,
"City Sark," could not be confirmed.
The original honeymoon plan was said to have called for Edward and his Duchess to leave Chateau de Candé immediately after their wedding for an automobile trip to Biarritz on the Bay of Biscay.

Lindbergh, Opposing Celebration,
Says Past Should Be Left Alone

Thinks Events of Another Period Should Be Used to Simplify, Not Complicate Lives.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 21.—A letter from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, in which he said he was opposed to the celebration of the anniversary of his trans-Atlantic flight was read last night at the dinner here commemorating the event.

The letter was addressed to Thomas W. Lamont, who quoted it at the dinner.

"I am embarrassed to think of your being asked to devote your time and energy to preparing a speech for the anniversary of my flight to Paris," Lindbergh wrote.
"I believe that the past should not be turned into an obligation for the future; and ceremonies for celebrating past events almost invariably become an obligation for those taking part in them."

"It seems to me that the past should be used to simplify rather than to complicate our lives. At this time, especially, there are too many serious problems which require concentrated attention to justify our spending very much time celebrating the accomplishments of another period."

"Although I do not feel that you should take the time to do it, I deeply appreciate the fact that you are willing to speak on the anniversary of my flight. I am in the strange, although not unlike, position of being thoroughly opposed to the holding of a celebration which I feel is an exceptionally great honor."

The dinner was authorized by a group of Lindbergh's former associates in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the New York-Paris flight. Co-operating were the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, the National Aeronautic Association and the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences.

To the dinner Lindbergh sent this message: "Thanks for remembering me. But all this commemorative business seems a little useless."

The dinner was the second New York gathering of the day to observe the tenth anniversary of the New York-Paris flight. Col. Lindbergh in England listened by short-wave radio to addresses at a luncheon given in his honor under the auspices of the American Legion and the American section of the International Ligue des Aviateurs.

SECOND 'GRAVY' BILL
PERFECTED IN SENATE

Statute Revision Measure Advanced—Gov. Stark Vetoes Previous Act.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 21.—The Senate today perfected the statute revision "gravy" bill, which proposes to give 16 members of the Legislature jobs at $10 a day and expenses for 18 months preceding the next session of the Legislature.

Though vigorously opposed by Senator McReynolds of Carthage, who tried to amend it to limit the membership of the revision commission to four members, the bill was perfected in the original form.
A similar bill recently was vetoed by Gov. Stark on the basis of an opinion by the Attorney-General that it was unconstitutional on several points, one being that it provided for the appointment of members of the Legislature by the presiding officers of the Senate and House.

After the veto the Attorney-General prepared a new bill placing the appointing power in the Governor, and eliminating the provision that the members of the commission were to be Senators and Representatives. Instead the new bill provided that they should be "familiar with legislative enactments," which means the Senate and House, possibly detours around the Constitution.

The commission will be expected to prepare bills for submission to the next Legislature eliminating from the printed statutes all laws passed within the past 10 years which have been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, and also eliminating sections which have been repealed by the Legislature within that time.

POPE COMPLETES WHITE BOOK AGAINST GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Vatican City Prelates Say He May Publish Accusations at Any Time.

VATICAN CITY, May 21.—Pope Pius XI has completed and may publish at any time a White Book against the German Government, prelates said today.

The diplomatic paper has been in preparation for several months, and is designed to give documentary evidence that any violation of the Vatican-German concordat was on the part of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's regime and not of the Holy See.

(The concordat, signed July 8, 1933, by representatives of the Vatican and Germany, was designed to outline the sphere of the church's activity in Germany, especially with regard to training of youth.
Church spokesmen since have charged that the Nazi Government abridged the concordat by attempting to deny the church the privilege of religious training for Catholic youth.)

1000-YEAR-OLD TOMFOOLERIES, SHAW'S VIEW OF CORONATION

He Says Costumes Were Symbolic of Nothing but Russian Ballet.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
LONDON, May 21.—With the coronation a thing of the past, George Bernard Shaw, writing in "Time and Tide," suggests that the real cause of Edward VIII's abdication was his refusal to "endure its thousand-year-old tomfooleries."

Shaw proposes the establishment of a society for the prevention of cruelty to royal personages, but admits that as the physical discomforts of the coronation are voluntarily shared by so many of the monarch's subjects, "there must be some fun in it which does not appear to me."

The clothes used in the ceremony Shaw describes as "the clothes of William the Conqueror and Queen Matilda transmogrified by generations of costumers into fancy dresses symbolic of nothing but the Russian ballet."

NAZI NEWSPAPERS
ASSAIL AMERICAN CATHOLICS, JEWS

Government - Controlled Press Reacts Violently to Cardinal Mundelein's Speech.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, May 21.—The controlled Nazi press renewed its attacks against American Jews and Catholics today and demanded that the Vatican "call to order" George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago for his remarks about Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

The outbursts included not only the Cardinal but Catholics and Jews generally and Mayor Fiorello
H. LaGuardia of New York, in particular.

Under the caption of "Hair-raising Immorality in New York High Schools," the official news agency distributed an item throughout Germany about an investigation into the charges that there had been wholesale bootlegging of contraband among students of Brooklyn high schools.

The agency said the Board of Education, the dispatch said, "is further evidence of what unheard of things are possible in this city under the eyes of the Jew La-Guardia."

The agency said Brooklyn is inhabited "chiefly by Jews and Catholics," and added that the investigation showed "high school pupils were working hand in hand with gangsters who supplied them with contraband."

An investigation is being made by District Attorney William F.
X. Geoghan of Brooklyn into what he termed immorality among high school students in that borough.

For Showdown with Vatican.
The press generally insisted on a showdown with the Vatican over Cardinal Mundelein's description of Hitler as "an Austrian paperhanger, and a darn poor one at that," and of German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges as worse propaganda than the atrocity tales of the World War.

The Lokal Anzeiger in a special article based on an interview with State's Attorney Mattingen of Bonn said the church had been given a long period of grace to "cleanse" religious orders but had done nothing.

Hence, the paper declared, the State was obliged to intervene, "not for the satisfaction of sending priests to jail, but because the state alone is able to eradicate the evils."

The Catholic Church was described as defending the condition it was powerless to end because of "question of prestige."
Mattingen in the interview tabulated more than 1000 alleged sex offenses which resulted in charges against priests and lay brothers of the church.

About 150 offenders were sent abroad, he said, while 150 cases were passed by the statute of limitations. Three hundred of the other 700 were reported to have been brought to trial including 80 on which sentences have been passed.

Harking to this record, the paper raised the demand that not only should the Vatican "call the Cardinal to order" but officially declare its intention to hand over voluntarily every alleged sex offender in its ranks to the state for punishment.

Belgian Royal Family Receiving Homage of Provincials

When hundreds of residents of the province of Limbourg made a trip to Brussels recently, the high spot of the day was the march past the royal palace. Here the royal family receives the homage of the delegation. From left: PRINCESS JOSEPHINE CHARLOTTE, KING LEOPOLD, QUEEN-MOTHER ELIZABETH and PRINCE BAUDOUIN.

many are endeavoring to keep clear of the reaction against the Cardinal's criticism of Hitler, lest the church encounter new difficulties with the Government.

Some church leaders today asked even that newspaper correspondents not call at diocesan headquarters, lest secret agents put these visits down against the church.

The Gestapo, German secret state police, began today to seek detailed information on German sources from which it believed, Cardinal Mundelein obtained the information on which his remarks were based.

Reproductions of purported American newspaper accounts, published here, said that Cardinal Mundelein obtained his data from German residents, relayed through the Franciscan Sisters in Illinois. If the identity of any of these Germans can be established, it was learned, they will be punishable under a German law which classifies as treason the circulation of "false reports" likely to do damage to the fatherland. The penalty for treason is the headman's ax.

Berlin Professor Urges Halt in Denunciation of U. S.

BERLIN, May 21.—Prof. Friedrich Schoenemann of the University of Berlin, formerly an instructor of Harvard, warned Nazi officials and other Germans at the Political Academy here yesterday to halt the blanket denunciation of the United States.

"I think it is rather foolish, and at the same time dangerous, for a certain section of the German press to indulge in wholesale criticism of the United States," he said.
Schoenemann also referred directly to the recent castigations of the Nazi Government by Mayor La-Guardia and to the manner in which the Nazi press in turn denounced the Mayor. He said:

"We must never think that a single sensation or craziness is characteristic of American civilization. We have done by far too much honor to LaGuardia, who to my mind is not typically American, but rather, a bad case of party politics. We cannot very well judge Americanism of today by a man like LaGuardia. We must always live under the surface of the

NEW YORK, May 21.—Lord Mel-chairman of the Council of the last night that the world must find for oppressed Jews "an alternative to suicide."

In an address at a dinner given in his honor by the United Pales-

Palestine and neighboring Transjordan have room for at least five or six million more people, "thus offering the only solution or hope of salvation" to the problem of Jewish homelessness in Europe.

Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, vice-chairman of the Joint Distribution Com-

$4,650,000 quota to aid the Jewish populations overseas, $1,281,000 had already been subscribed. St. Louis was among cities which have exceeded their quotas.

KING VISITS WARSHIPS
AFTER FLEET REVIEW

George VI Calls on Officers of Craft at Portsmouth While Queen Watches From Yacht.

PORTSMOUTH, England, May 21.—In a choppy sea, King George VI visited four selected British warships today, following his coronation review of the British fleet and visiting foreign warships.

The King journeyed from the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, to the four warships aboard an admiral's barge while Queen Elizabeth watched from the bridge of the yacht, which had remained anchored with the fleet during the night.

With the historic order "Splice the main brace!" King George ordered a double ration of rum served to the entire naval rank and file.
The yacht returned to Portsmouth navy yard at 2 p. m. and the King

well 21-gun salute as the royal train left Portsmouth.

Last night King George and Queen Elizabeth gave a dinner party on the yacht to the Lords of the Admiralty, the Dominion premiers and the 16 British and foreign admirals present in command of the various vessels that participated in the review.

Later all the ships were illuminated and gave a searchlight display.

ENVOY GIVES WISCONSIN U.
PAINTINGS BY YOUNG RUSSIANS

Joseph E. Davies Presents Soviet Art Work to School of Which He Is Alumnus.

MADISON, Wis., May 21.—The University of Wisconsin Board of Regents yesterday announced the acceptance of more than 70 paintings by young Soviet artists as a gift from Joseph E. Davies, United States Ambassador to Russia, who is an alumnus of the university.

Davies' desire to give the works of art to the university was first expressed in a letter to Gov. La Follette early in March. "The pictures, I feel, would have a real educational value, for I believe they interpret and explain many of the reasons for and developments in these great events which are transpiring here," Davies wrote.

He praised Russian painting as "extraordinary for its imaginative vigor, strength and color."

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN

To a Showdown

The President still holds the reins which he expressed in his message to Congress last January, the resignation of Mr. Justice Brandeis, following upon the ascendancy of a liberal majority within the Supreme Court, ought to give him great pleasure.

But, as a matter of fact, there are many signs that the faction which he is now associated is deeply embarrassed by the achievement of a liberal majority. They are not in the least elated at having what they said they were going to do.

Most of the Democratic leaders in Congress must be wondering about the future. They must have asked themselves again and again why they have been commanded to go on with the bill when their support has been already or is certain to be accomplished within the next few months.

This is a puzzling question. But it is a puzzle which the answer to shall be a liberal court is certain. The bill is its real object, whether its object is to insure liberal control of the court or whether the object is something more far-reaching than the liberalization of the court.

When men speak of liberalizing the court, they mean that the Constitution shall be construed by judges who have the legal philosophy developed by the dissenting opinions of Holmes and Brandeis, and Cardozo in their dissenting opinions. The sponsors of the President's bill have given out the impression that what they seek to do is to make a court in which a majority will hold the philosophy of these dissenting judges. That purpose, the leaders of opposition have been in sympathy, however much they may be rebuffed against the deceit and brutality of the judiciary bill. Such disinterested support of the bill has been due to a conviction that the court needed badly to be reformed, and that the legal philosophy of Mr. Justice Holmes, and that of the position of these supporters if now the President is upon the enactment of his bill, it is not evident that if he insists, he is confessing that he wants more power than even a liberal court would find in the Constitution.

It is not the reason why the liberal decisions of the past two years and the resignation of Mr. Justice Van Devanter are so embarrassing to the promoters of the bill. They are not so embarrassing to the promoters of the bill as they are to the President. They are not so embarrassing to the President as they are to the President. They are not so embarrassing to the President as they are to the President.

It is this statement starting, but make every honest administration ashamed of the party leadership. The statement is not a threat and says that the court proposal, they will be punished by anything which the nation has to lose or bind. The Supreme Court issue itself is not as this. Here is a direct threat to the members of the Senate who are to be told.

It is this statement starting, but make every honest administration ashamed of the party leadership. The statement is not a threat and says that the court proposal, they will be punished by anything which the nation has to lose or bind. The Supreme Court issue itself is not as this. Here is a direct threat to the members of the Senate who are to be told.

The truth of the matter is that the moving spirit behind this bill, including, I think, the President himself, have no idea of being satisfied with the Constitution as construed in the philosophy of Holmes and Brandeis. What they want is plenary authority for the President and a controlled congressional majority; they want this authority to be unlimited by the rights of the states or by the checks and balances of the Constitution.

Such authority they will never obtain from a merely liberal court. That was demonstrated, first, in the N. R. A. case, where the liberal Justices were, if anything, more vehement than the others against the blanket delegation of power to the President. It was demonstrated again in the Humphrey case, where, by a vote of 9 to 0, the court set itself against the President's attempt to bring the independent commissions under his personal control.

From a liberal court, the New Dealers could get the power to achieve most of the reforms which they have talked about. But what they cannot get from a liberal court is the blanket authority that they now desire. For the liberal Justices are constitutionalists. The dominant New Dealers today are not. The dominant New Dealers today are men who believe that there must be no limits upon the power of the New Deal majority.

Thus, though it was indiscreet on his part, it was immensely revealing when Representative Maverick the other day demanded the retirement not only of all the conservative Judges, but of Mr. Justice Brandeis as well. Mr. Maverick is not to be taken too seriously as an administration spokesman, even though he is the nominal sponsor of the judiciary bill. Mr. Maverick is very representative indeed of the little group of bold and reckless men who have been setting the pace for the President in the past few months.

It is significant that Mr. Maverick wants to get rid of Mr. Justice Brandeis. From his point of view, he is quite right. The liberalism of Mr. Justice Brandeis is deeply inconsistent with the personally conducted collectivism which the present New Dealers want.

Because this is their real purpose, the inner circle who are now in control of the New Deal are not pleased when the court liberalizes its views. They would find it easier to overwhelm the court if it stood rigid. That is why they are not satisfied with a "compromise" that would give them the appointment of the Justices. They want to become the masters of the court in order that constitutional limitations and judicial restraint may no longer check their own authority.

For their purpose is not to liberalize the courts. Their purpose is to become the masters of the court in order that constitutional limitations and judicial restraint may no longer check their own authority.

FEAR BREEDS MISERY, FR. MCCARTHY WARNS

Chief Cause of Abnormality, Marquette U. Head Tells Catholic Forum.

Fear is the greatest cause of physical and mental abnormalities, the Rev. Raphael C. McCarthy, S. J., president of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., and former professor of psychology at St. Louis University, said last night at the first annual banquet of the Catholic Forum at the Elks Club.

"No other single factor in human experience is responsible for so much misery and inefficiency as is fear and its derivatives—worry, anxiety, doubt and the persuasion of one's own incompetency," Father McCarthy told the Forum, an organization of graduates of Catholic universities formed for study and debate of current topics.

"During the depression, millions of men and women, who, in happier times, were carefree and buoyant, have fallen victims to feelings of uncertainty and insecurity. Some of our recent and present troubles have been created by fears and others have been intensified by them. An eminent French neurologist has said that considerably more than half of the complaints that affect the human race are due to fear."

A healthy fear, Father McCarthy added, prompts to caution and aids in avoiding dangerous situations. Fear of poverty may inspire thrift and become a motive for industry and dread of the censure of acquaintances may result in good behavior.

"To offend, however," he went on, "it becomes an agency of harm, an obsessive paralyzing emotion, capable of disorganizing the mind and the body. This is the type of fear that destroys happiness and drains energy."

Fear, rather than any defect in the speech apparatus, is responsible for a large percentage of cases of stammering or stuttering, Father McCarthy asserted. All the symptoms of gastric ulcer, although there may be nothing organically wrong with the stomach, he said, may be experienced by the man who is laboring under a load of anxiety and is obsessed by stifling fear for weeks and months.

The Mind and Balanced Diet. As to dieting, Father McCarthy continued, it has real advantages when the advice of a physician is followed, but in other cases it may be a source of needless anxiety.

"It is a curious fact," he said, "that people who are attentive to balancing their diet tend to become mentally unbalanced. They are haunted by the specter of vitamins and calories until the business of chemical experiment."

"We should, of course, use ordinary prudence in avoiding disease and preserving our health, but we should guard against the danger of becoming fanatical on the subject of the most healthy state of mind toward health to give it as little attention as prudence will allow."

How to Increase Blood Pressure. "Many are worrying today about high blood pressure. People always have had high blood pressure, and one of the most effective ways of increasing it is to become anxious about it."

"It is possible that a person may live longer if he grows so solicitous about his health that he becomes a hypochondriac, but it is debatable whether it is a blessing to live as a hypochondriac. Personally, I should rather die of high blood pressure than of the fear of it. The former is the more dignified kind of death."

Dr. R. Emmet Kane presided. Other speakers were L. Milton Zinn, Charles P. Meyer, a co-founder of the old Waldorf Hotel in New York and author of the "Royal Cook Book" containing recipes of dishes served to European royalty, died yesterday. He would have been 94 years old next Tuesday.

Evangelical Women's Union to Close Sessions Tonight. Dr. G. W. Richards to Speak on "The Challenge of the Church to the Women."

The sixth annual national convention of the Evangelical Women's Union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will end with a session tonight at St. John's Methodist Church, 5008 Washington avenue.

Dr. G. W. Richards of Lancaster, Pa., president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church of the United States, will be the principal speaker on the closing program. His subject will be "The Challenge of the Church to the Women." Sessions devoted to the relation between the church and the community were held this morning and afternoon.

Mrs. Clara H. Needles Dies. Granite City Woman Was Leader in Club Circle.

Mrs. Clara H. Needles, Granite City clubwoman, died of heart disease at Barnes Hospital last night. She was 65 years old and a widow.

She was president of the Madison County Historical Society, organizer of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, a charter member of the town's D. A. R. local, chairman of the Twenty-second Congressional District Republican Women's Club and past president of the Federation of Women's Clubs and a member of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society board. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Mercer chapel in Granite City with burial at Green Mount Cemetery, Bellevue. Surviving are her daughter and a brother and sister.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS ELEANORE HAMILTON HALL and Frank Lutz Thompson will be married at sundown this evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hall, 5705 Cates avenue. Only 30 guests, mostly members of the families, have been invited to the 6 o'clock ceremony, to be performed by the Rev. Thomas M. Knapp, S. J., dean of St. Louis University College, and a close friend.

Afterward, the families will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Hall for a buffet supper, and the bride party will dine at the St. Louis Woman's Club, where a reception will be held at 8 o'clock.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Bradford Hall as maid of honor, and by her cousin, Mrs. Charles Lewis Thompson II, the former Miss Winifred Duncan, and Mrs. Norman Ibsen of Chicago, formerly Miss Mira Lee Benoit.

The wedding party, led by the groomsmen, Wyatt and Lawrence Shaller, George and Louis Hall, Jr. and Edward T. Hall, the bride's brother, will proceed down the stairs to a white ribbon aisle strewn with white flowers and lighted candles at each side, and a floral arrangement on the mantel reflected in a mirror overhead. Basket standards of Easter lilies and snapdragons also mark the entrance to the dining room, in which the buffet table will be decorated with spring flowers and old family brass candlesticks.

The bride's three attendants will wear as many colors—gowns of marquisette over low cut taffeta slips. Miss Hall is to be in yellow; Mrs. Thompson in soft cherry red; Mrs. Ibsen in hyacinth blue, which will be worn by the bridesmaids. The bride will wear a gown of heavy, old fashioned ivory satin, re-created from the wedding costume of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. James Aull, who like her paternal grandmother, Mrs. George Hamilton Hall, will be present at the ceremony. Old rose point lace has been fashioned into a deep square yoke and edges the long satin sleeves. The skirt flares from a point at the knees into a long rounded train.

Two old family veils, given to tonight's bride by her grandmother Hall and worn by several brides in their family, have been attached to the bride's hair. A small wreath of pearl orange blossoms. The bride will carry lilies of the valley.

Mr. Hall will give his daughter in marriage, and the bridegroom, Mr. Lutz Thompson, of Kansas City, will have his brother, Collins Thompson Jr., as best man.

Among the out-of-town guests will be Mr. Ibsen, who accompanied his wife from Chicago; her brother, Edmund Ibsen, of St. Louis; and the bride's uncle, Robert Aull of New York.

After the bridal dinner at the Woman's Club, at which the wedding group will sit at a large table in the dining room, the bride and groom will be in the lounge to receive. The wedding table is to be adorned with bowls of white flowers and candles on a long mirror reflector, and simple decorations of white flowers will be arranged in the main dining room.

Mr. Thompson and his bride will live at 126 East Jefferson road, Kirkwood, after a brief honeymoon. The bride is a member of the Junior League and was a debutante a few years ago. She is a graduate of the Academy of the Visitation and of Washington University where she became a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Thompson joined Sigma Chi at Washington University and has a degree at the School of Architectural Engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Robinson Pirrung sailed Saturday from Honolulu, where they spent their honeymoon. They will be back in St. Louis the last of next week. Mrs. Pirrung, before her marriage April 15, was Miss Lila Marshall Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wade Childress, Clayton and McKnight roads.

Mrs. Arthur Frederick Miller and her small daughter, Anne, arrived today from New York to visit Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Butler, 4556 West Pine boulevard. Mrs. Miller is the former Miss Caroline Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Quarles, 24 Algonquin lane, with their children, Julia and Joseph V., are making plans to move to Boston the first of June. Mr. and Mrs. Quarles and their family moved to St. Louis three years ago from Chicago.

Miss Dorothy Merrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Merrell Jr., 5071 Westminster place, will leave June 5, to spend two weeks in the South. Driving to Atlanta, Ga., she will be guest of Mrs. Harry Dunwoody for a few days, then will visit Miss Betsey Taft at Augusta, Ga. Miss Taft, Mrs. Dunwoody and Miss Merrell were friends at Camp Graystone, near Asheville, N. C.

News has been received here of the approaching marriage of Teasdale Barney of New York, formerly of St. Louis, and Miss Constance James, St. Louis, May 29, at Montclair, N. J. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adams Phelps, also former St. Louisans, who formerly of Philadelphia, was the sister.

Miss Judith Baird, daughter of Mrs. Williams E. Baird of the Litzinger road, has departed for Peoria, Ill., to be a bridesmaid in the wedding of Miss Isabel Roby and Lieut. David B. Stone tomorrow afternoon. Miss Roby and Miss Baird were classmates at Les Fougères, Lausanne, Switzerland.

Miss Baird and her mother returned home recently from California where they spent the winter and will leave early next month for Portage Point, Mich., where they have a summer cottage.

Mrs. Neal S. Wood, 16 Greenbriar road, has invited 17 friends to a garden tea at her home tomorrow afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Chester A. Gore of Los Angeles, Cal., the former Miss Mildred Wright of St. Louis, has been here as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Walter A. Gore, 612 West Berens avenue. Mrs. Gore has left for Pittsburgh, Pa., and will return to St. Louis before going home.

Mrs. Richard Webber of Detroit, who has been here during the meeting of the National Garden Club of America, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. M. F. Bingham and her daughter, Miss Ruth, 3647 Flora place, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Bromeyer, and her daughter, Miss Rea, will depart Tuesday for Annapolis, Md., to attend the graduation of Mrs. Bromeyer's son, Richard, from the United States Naval Academy. Later they will travel in the East.

Mrs. Bingham and her daughter will be in St. Louis 10 days on their return after which they plan to leave the last of June for Higgins Lake, Mich., where they will spend the summer at their cottage.

Miss Jo Ann Billman and her father, H. E. Billman, Old Warsaw road, will sail June 17 from New York to tour Europe for two months. They will include Italy, Germany and France on their itinerary and expect to be back in St. Louis the last of August.

Mrs. Elinor, who has been visiting Phoenix, Ariz., and Oakland, Cal., will return home the first of June, while her mother, Mrs. Laura Shepherd, who accompanied her on the trip, will remain in Oakland until August.

Miss Elizabeth Hoeft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Hoerr, 18 Princeton place, and Miss Hester Stocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Stocker, 350 Woodlawn avenue, Kirkwood, will take part in "Iphigenia in Tauris" to be given at Bennett Junior College, Millbrook, N. Y., next Friday and Saturday. Both young women will be graduated from the school next month.

Mrs. E. J. McCurdy and Mrs. LeRoy Bush, 520 North Union boulevard, arrived in New York from Europe Wednesday aboard the Berengaria. They were in London during coronation week.

Delta Zeta Nu sorority will give a benefit bridge at the Queen's Daughters' Home, 3730 Lindell boulevard, at 8 o'clock tonight. In addition to cards, an entertainment will be given. Miss Ruth Schanuel is chairman of the bridge.

MOSES GREENSFELDER, CAPITALIST, DIES AT 91

Former Owner of Large Tracts of Land in County— Retired 50 Years.

Moses B. Greensfelder, capitalist and former owner of large tracts of land in St. Louis County, died last midnight of bronchial pneumonia at his home, 115 North Mernace avenue, Clayton. He was 91 years old and had been in retirement about 50 years.

Frequently in recent years he was one of the persons with the highest personal property tax return in St. Louis County. A kindly, sage figure, he lived simply with his wife in an apartment. Last September they celebrated their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary.

Born in Baltimore, Md., he came to St. Louis in 1877. Five years later he bought a farm at Old Bonhomme and Olive Street roads. He lived there until 10 years ago and owned the property at the time of his death.

In 1900 with Adolphus Busch, John Jannopolous and George W. Baumhoff he founded Delmar Garden, amusement park at the end of the Delmar car line, which had recently been established. The garden was created primarily as an attraction for riders of the car line.

He was one of the founders and the first president of the St. Louis County Banw. He also was a Justice of the Peace in the county years ago. Recently he gave to the Boy Scouts a three-acre tract on the south side of Ladue road, east of McKnight road.

Surviving, besides his wife, who is 86 years old, are two sons, Bernard, a lawyer, and Albert, president of the Fruin-Conn Contracting Co., and two daughters, Mrs. William Ebert, a former lawyer, and Mrs. Maud Joseph of Chicago.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at Mount Sinai Cemetery.

BAR ON CERTAIN PASTRY

Health Officer Sends Summer Notice to Bakers.

Notifications not to sell custard cream or whipped cream filled pastries was sent today to bakers, hotels and other businesses handling or selling bakery goods by Health Commissioner Joseph F. Bredeck, because of the danger of food poisoning in hot weather. The prohibition will be lifted Oct. 1.

Custards, custard cream and whipped cream pastries created "ideal conditions" for the forming of food poison beyond control of the baker, the notice said. Citizens are asked to report the sale of the prohibited food articles.

MUMMERS SUCCESSFUL IN LIGHT FARCE

"Gentlemen Wear Gloves," Their Final Play, Goes Over Well.

The Mummurs of St. Louis presented the first of two performances of a satiric farce called "Gentlemen Wear Gloves" last night at the Wednesday Club. Director Willard Holland had the leading role. An audience of modest proportions gave warm evidence that it enjoyed the fun. The play is to be repeated on Saturday as the last performance of the group's season. It deserves another audience considerably larger.

"The piece is by Paul Vulpius and John Coman. Its title gives little clue to the subject. Probably the ensuing description won't help much either, for "Gentlemen Wear Gloves" is altogether madcap and trivial. There's the germ of an idea concealed in it somewhere, the play being a broad burlesque on bankers. But the bankers of the piece are so humorously unlikely, the situation so featherweight, that no one is likely to mind very much—least of all the hypothetical banker in the audience. The piece is plotted around a personable young college graduate who walks into the sanctum of a large New York bank, helps himself to a desk and proceeds to become expert on a vexing problem (of his own invention) which turns all Wall Street upside down.

Thinking it over after the final curtain, one is impressed by the exquisite triviality of the piece. There is a certain justness in the psychological attitudes in burlesques. But on the whole the play is just a puff of steam, disappearing in thin air before one has reached the street. Implausible as it is, what's even more so is the undeniable fact that the Mummurs did it over.

It was put over dressed up in sets that cost (and this is an inside tip) not more than $25; in costumes that mostly didn't fit and by players some of whom were so hopelessly miscast that their incongruity actually added to the absurdity of the plot without contributing any sense of reality. How this company persuaded the audience (this member included) to join in the fun they obviously got out of the script, will remain a mystery. Perhaps Willard Holland could explain it, for it is his competent, self-assured dramatic touch that obviously makes the whole thing go. Holland's playing of the lead is one of the most inspired bits of theatrical trickery in years. Of course there were errors. The tempo errors one finds in most amateur productions weren't lacking last night. But in spite (or perhaps because) of them the play had an inconceivable verve about it that was altogether delightful.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS FOR WELFARE WORK OPPOSED

Missouri League of Women Voters Says It Would Be Bar to Experienced Employees.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 21.—Telegrams urging elimination of the residence requirements for commissioners and administrators in the pending social security bill were sent Tuesday to Gov. Stark and the House Social Security Committee by the Missouri League of Women Voters.

The organization said the residence requirements would prevent many counties from appointing experienced welfare workers. The Senate bill carries a 10-year state residence requirement for county commissioners and state administrators and a five-year requirement for county administrators.

The women also telegraphed Senator Edward A. Barbour Jr., chairman of the Senate Election Committee, urging the committee to reject permanent registration bills in which signatures by voters and a biennial census are not required.

WILD TURKEYS HATCHING IN JERSEY COUNTY PRESERVE

First Flock of 11 Young Birds Reported From Nest of 16 Eggs.

First wild turkeys of the present season are hatching in the State game preserves in Richwood and Rosedale Townships in Jersey County, Illinois, reports Warden Thomas Cummings. The first flock consists of 11 young birds, he said. The nest originally contained 16 eggs.

This is not so high a state of fertility as the past season, Cummings said. Some hens last year brought forth as many as 17 and 18 young ones for a 100 per cent hatch.

"I am not stating," said Cummings, "that all the hatch this spring may show this small a per cent of fertile eggs. Various conditions may influence the hatching. The hen may have been frightened away from her nest and remained long enough for some of the eggs to chill. It has been a cold, wet spring for the nesting season compared to the ideal nesting period of the 1936 spring."

EDGAR LEE MASTERS ON FICTION IN U. S.

He Thinks Americans Are Too Cautious as Lovers to Write of Love.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Americans are too cautious as lovers, Edgar Lee Masters says, and so "the great American love story" has never been written.

If it ever is written it probably won't be by a woman, he says, because to women love isn't such a soul-shaking affair as it is to a man.

Masters' judgment of American love, or loving, is based on 25 years' experience limiting the American character and scene in prose and poetry, including the "Spoon River Anthology."

"Americans don't go into love matters with the same imagination that people do in other countries," he explains.

"It's not that the French and English and Italians are necessarily more passionate or more vital than Americans, but, being more sure of themselves, they are more able to abandon themselves in something like love."

"We are raised here for the most part according to a pattern of duty to industry, to what is known as success, and to the hearth that tends to standardize and take all the blood out of a deeply personal matter like love."

"Oh, he may get infatuated with some girl for a little while, but the first thing you know he has dropped her and is looking around for someone else."

There never has been a "really deep, well-worked-out love story"—a novel—written in America, Masters says.

"Something like 'Madame Bovary' or 'Anna Karenina,'" he continues, "Not just a story of the sexual side—heavens knows we've had plenty of that—but something expressing the passion of love, like 'Romeo and Juliet'."

"What novelist in America could have written it? Not James Fenimore Cooper or Hawthorne. And certainly not William Dean Howells—he would have been ashamed."

Some Progress, However.

"And a woman couldn't have written it. Love to a woman is more of a negative, receptive thing, and the story from her side of the counter isn't interesting."

The author doesn't see any prospects for the great American love story being written in the immediate future, and doesn't know what can be done about it.

But writing in this country has improved in recent years, Masters feels. "It's less bitter, less cynical and less poisonous than, say, 15 or 20 years ago."

"It's not stirred by so much spiritual synthetic gin."

CHICAGOAN BECOMES HEAD OF ILLINOIS MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. R. K. Packard Installed at Peoria Meeting; Springfield Man Named Next President.

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., May 21.—Dr. R. K. Packard, Chicago, became the new president of the Illinois State Medical Society yesterday. He succeeded Dr. Roland L. Green of Peoria, who was guest of honor Wednesday night at a testimonial dinner tendered in connection with the society's annual convention.

Mrs. Herbert Kenkel, Springfield, was elected president of the women's auxiliary Wednesday and Mrs. Albert H. Baugher, Chicago, was chosen president-elect. Other auxiliary officers elected were Mrs. Charles C. Winning, East St. Louis, first vice-president; Mrs. John A. Wolfer, Chicago, second vice-president; Mrs. E. G. Beatty, Pontiac, third vice-president; Mrs. William Raim, Chicago, treasurer; Mrs. S. L. Heck, Chicago, recording secretary; and Mrs. S. R. Magill, Springfield, corresponding secretary.

The medical society decided to start a drive against socialized medicine and raised the annual membership dues to create a fund for that purpose. Officers elected to be installed at next year's convention were: Dr. Samuel E. Munson, Springfield, president; Dr. E. C. Kelly, Peoria, first vice-president; Dr. T. D. Doan, Palmyra, second vice-president; Dr. Harold M. Camp, Monmouth, secretary; and Dr. A. J. Markley, Belvidere, treasurer. The last two were re-elected. Another adopted resolution approved the State's campaign against unlicensed physicians. Springfield was awarded the 1938 convention.

He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital. The driver was Ed Matthes, Negro, 2609 Tudor avenue.

Louis Trackey, 1516 Illinois avenue, suffered fractures of the left leg and right ankle when struck by an automobile driven by Prosper Vogt, 19, 430 North Twenty-seventh street, East St. Louis, while crossing St. Louis avenue at Fifteenth street, East St. Louis. Vogt said Trackey stepped backward into the path of the car. Trackey was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

VIOLINS VALUED AT $2,000,000 IN CREMONA EXPOSITION

Paganini's Instrument Among Those Shown at Display in Memory of Stradivari.

By the Associated Press.

CREMONA, Italy, May 21.—More than 200 rare violins covered by insurance exceeding $2,000,000 are on display here at an exposition commemorating the 200th anniversary of the death of Antonio Stradivari, master violin-maker.

Crown Prince Umberto formally opened the exposition, which will last five months. Tourists from many nations were present. Cremona is Stradivari's birthplace.

Among the most famous instruments shown was Nicolo Paganini's violin, which the Italian virtuoso bequeathed to the City of Genoa. It was lent for the exposition with the provision that unusual precautions be taken to protect it. It was the first time the violin had been taken from its glass case in Genoa's institute of fine arts since the city became its owner.

Displays of sixteenth and seventeenth century art were added attractions.

International sporting events and a contest in which 120 violinists will compete for medals and cash prizes will be features of the exposition.

MORE AUTO DEATHS IN ILLINOIS, FEWER FROM OTHER CAUSES

March Traffic Fatalities Set All-Time High for State; Scarlet Fever Still Prevalent.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 21.—Although motor vehicle accident fatalities reached an all-time high in March, deaths from all causes in Illinois that month were below last year, the Public Health Department reports.

Automobile deaths were 252 compared with 182 a year ago, while deaths from all causes were 8390 compared with 8642. Although an influenza epidemic early in the year brought the number of deaths for the first quarter of this year above a year ago, declines took place in mortality from most of the communicable diseases, cancer, diabetes, apoplexy and nephritis.

With epidemic centers in Clay, Ford, Franklin, Macon and Rock Island counties, 43 new cases of scarlet fever were reported compared with 19 the previous week. Scarlet fever, with 628 cases, continued as the most prevalent epidemic disease in the State.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—By BOB BURNS

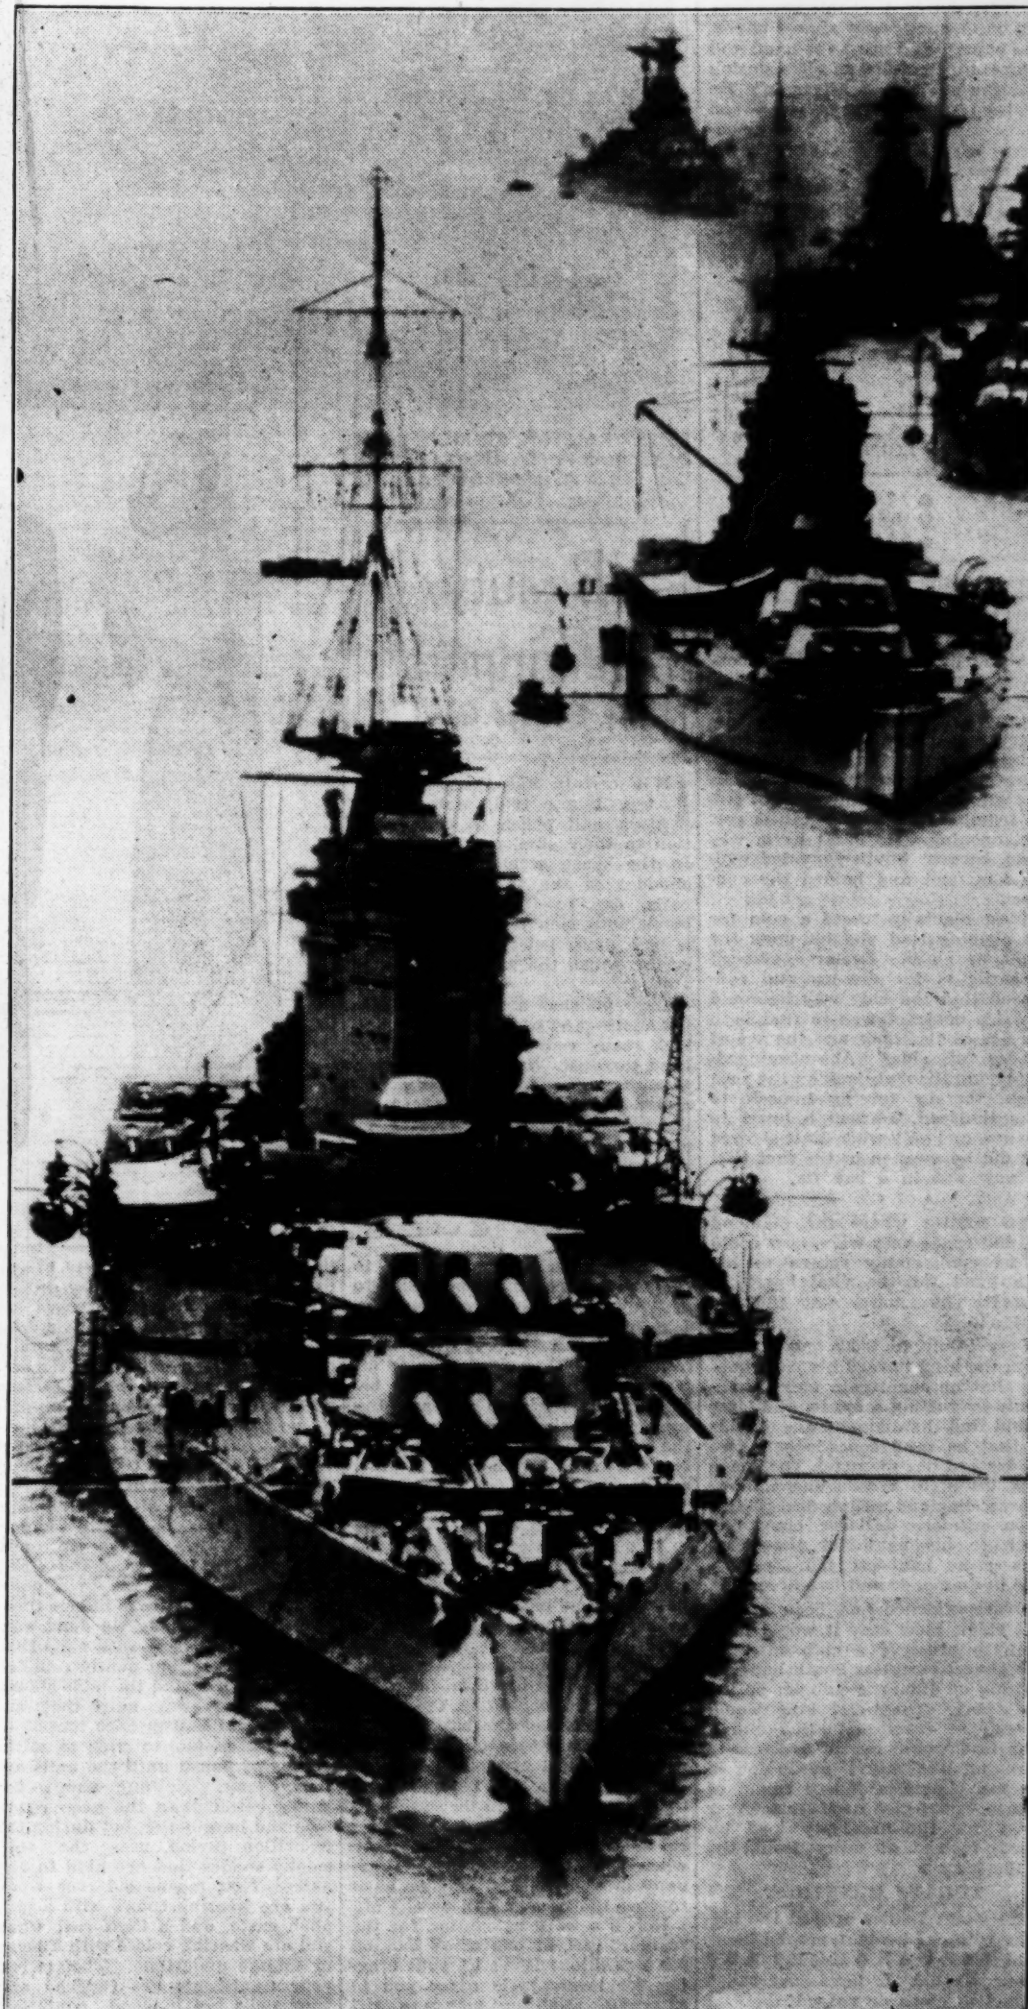

I THINK mistrust has broken up more homes than pretty near anything else in the world. Two people can't be happy day after day livin' under the same roof unless they have faith in each other. That's the reason they should both put their cards on the table right from the beginning. When Grandpaw Pelican Snelson was a judge down home, a man walked into his court one day and said, "Judge, I want'a get a divorce from my wife." Grandpaw says, "Well, you've only been married to her for three months." And he says, "Yes, but I've found out that she's deceitful. This morning when I was tellin' her where I was last night she pretended to believe every word I said, when I know very well she knew I was lying."

Too Much Confidence

By Ely Culbertson

OVERCONFIDENCE probably has been the cause of more defeats since the dawn of time than any other single factor. In contrast, the overconfidence virus seems to take great glee in attacking experts exclusively. Most of the debacles suffered by this class happen on comparatively simple hands. The expert glances at the hand and jumps to the unadvised conclusion that the contract is a "cinch." He rattles off a few cards, finds an unfavorable distribution, and suddenly, but too late, awakens to the fact that all is lost, including honor. That was the case in today's hand.

North dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

NORTH EAST SOUTH WEST
3 no trump Pass 3 hearts Pass
Pass Pass 4 hearts Pass
Pass Pass 5 hearts Pass

Although the point today concerns play, I had better take a passing shot at North's opening two no trump bid. It was wrong from every angle. The distribution was not the correct 4-3-3-3, and there were neither sufficient honor tricks nor winners for the huge bid of two no trump. One heart was the correct opening. No great harm was done, because South persisted with his long suit and landed the contract.

West mentally tossed a coin for his opening lead and hit upon the eight of clubs. Declarer glanced curiously at the dummy and concluded that the only way he could lose his contract was to find both the ace of diamonds and the ace of spades "off side." Absent-mindedly playing the club jack on the first trick, thereby forcing himself to take the lead, he sent a heart to the ace, and only when East showed out did he awaken to the fact that he now was in a bad fix.

No matter where the diamond and spade aces were, how could he comfortably return to his own hand for the vital heart finesse? The answer was that he couldn't.

Desperately, he led a spade away from the king toward his jack, hoping that he could gain entry eventually by ruffing a spade, and later would find the diamond ace on side so that he need concede only two spades and one diamond. The spade jack losing to West's queen, however, a diamond switch dashed this hope. Before declarer could get back to his hand for the heart finesse, he had lost four tricks—two in diamonds and two in spades.

Overconfidence had been declarer's ruin. How easy it would have been to preserve a club entry in the almost entryless South hand by putting up dummy's club ace on the first play. The heart trick would reveal the trump situation and a club lead would permit declarer to pick up the heart queen on a finesse. Later, a fourth round of hearts would give declarer another entry for the necessary lead toward, instead of away from, the spade king.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Dealer opened the bidding with one heart, I second hand, held ♠ 87 ♦ A7 ♣ KQ109 ♠ KJ 964. Should I have overcalled with two clubs or passed?

Answer: If vulnerable, pass; if not vulnerable, the bid should be two clubs.

Beauty In Fingers

By Gladys Glad

IN a certain Far Eastern country, I am told, women use black nail polish to call attention to their slim, graceful hands. In the West, women, of course shudder at the thought of black nails, due to the association of black with lack of cleanliness. It is true, nevertheless, that the deeper the polish the whiter the hands appear.

Deep polishes are back in fashion again—and women who want to look really well dressed find them hard to resist. Then, too, with the present vogue for simplicity in dress, extravagance in accents is the rule. A single large ring or exotic ornament, a brilliant scarf and brilliant nail polish worn with the simplest of dresses, will make you look more up to the minute than any number of elaborate frocks.

The problem most girls have to deal with is getting the nails to grow out long enough to show off a tip the other day. What he does object to—and strongly—is nails that are so long as to give the impression that they will interfere with work. Can you blame an employer for preferring girls with efficient-looking hands? Personally, I can't! So don't try to develop talons if you'd please the boss.

Much the best all-around shape for your nails is slightly longer than the finger at the tip, and shaped gently down at the sides. Don't file your nails to a point while you are trying to induce them to grow. Of course we don't suggest your appearing with nails filed straight across, but gently rounded is a good form, and the nails should be kept this way until they are strong and healthy once more.

It's better, too, to stick to softer shades of polish until the nails are fairly long. Nothing shows the hands better than the deep cardinals and burgundies, but during the transition period, use the soft, smoky shades that are kind to your eyes. That means old rose when you are wearing colors with a purplish cast, and a light rust when you are wearing colors with a beige or orange undertone. Then, when your treatments are finished and your nails are in good condition, you can indulge in the glittering and deeper polishes to your heart's content!

There is an inexpensive rose-colored cream that has been found especially effective. Work the cream in at the base of the nail, using a round-and-round motion. And avoid using any steel instruments at the base of the nail. They do more harm than anything else to increase brittleness. If the nail is injured even so slightly just above the root, where it is delicate, the injury gradually grows out; and as soon as it reaches the tip, the nail breaks off. Here's a word of caution for the "career" girl, or one who's looking for a position: Don't let your craving for lovely nails carry you to extremes. Nothing makes a girl look more completely useless than ultra-long nails that protrude half an inch or more beyond the fingertips. Most employers accept bright nails nowadays just as they do lipstick. But one of them gave me a tip the other day. SUNDAY CHURCH NOTES

By Marjorie Hillis
Author of "Live Alone and Like It"

TWO or three times I have mentioned the fact that I think it's a good idea to go to church on Sunday—a remark which has brought me quite a little mail. Various out-of-towners, planning to visit New York, have asked where I would suggest that they should go; other correspondents complain that church breaks into their one hard-earned day of rest; still others feel that it interferes with their hard-earned day of play.

Truth compels me to admit that these objections have occurred to me upon occasion. Often enough, in fact, to make me do a little investigating as to where one can go to church at all sorts of hours on Sunday. I now have a schedule (used only in emergencies) which goes from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., with only two gaps. It won't be useful to anyone who feels that if he doesn't go to a church of his own denomination, he hasn't been to church, but here it is for those who think, as I do, that the various churches are different answers to one fundamental need.

8 a. m.: At this early hour, you can go to Holy Communion in practically all Episcopal churches, including the Cathedral of Saint John the Divine, or to mass in almost all Catholic churches. It is my choice for an occasional Sunday when I plan to stay in bed. It doesn't seem so hard, once you've gotten up to wash your face, to slip into some clothes and walk a few blocks to a service, and when you get back to a breakfast tray in bed there is still a whole long day of rest ahead of you.

9 a. m.: Mass again at most Catholic churches, including Saint Patrick's Cathedral. If you haven't quite managed the 8 o'clock service, you can still have a long stretch of rest.

10 a. m.: My favorite at this hour (which seems to work best if I'm taking a train for Sunday dinner in the suburbs) is the Church of Saint Leo, on East Twenty-eighth street—one of the smallest and loveliest churches in New York. It is, actually, the chapel of a convent and the nuns wear robes—egg blue habits and chant the service.

11 a. m.: At this hour, you have an almost unlimited choice and can usually hear any of the finest New York preachers, including Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, or Dr. John Haynes Holmes.

12 a. m.: The only service I have further than to suggest that the healthy feel sure saves a lot of money. And here is something that does give real rest.

Simply go to your drugstore and get some Ice Mint. Use it for one day and see if this isn't the greatest little package of foot joy you ever saw.

Ice Mint prevents foot odor, keeps the feet cool and comfortable, relieves the stinging pain of corns and calluses and every person who has to walk or stand very long will appreciate how good it makes the feet feel. Try it once and give your poor, tired, aching feet the treat of their lives.

You will like the way Ice Mint works. It gives you a cooling comfort that brings to your feet; even a new pair of shoes won't bother you. Just one day's use will prove it.

Correct Form Of Invitation To Graduation

Requests Are Sent Out Advance and Announcements Sent Out Afterward

By Emily Post

ON behalf of the senior class we ask that you say something about sending out engraved forms.

In our special case where the number of graduates is large and invitations are limited, the forms will necessarily have to be sent out in advance of the time when the graduates will be able to say something about the time, is to watch for the girl who is stranded. The girls are supposed to cut in or look out for themselves (though sometimes a friend may sense the situation and give him a lift). The boys are supposed to keep a sharp eye out, at such an entertainment for girls whose partners must go to others with whom they have the next dance. The dressing room is watched for girls standing in the doorway or near it.

If a boy takes a girl to a night club or hotel, he is supposed to leave her alone to go and dance with others, unless he sees that she has another partner. When two or more couples have a party, there is an interchange of partners all evening, and the boy always takes his partner back to the table; sometimes leaving her there a minute or two if the next one she is to dance with is delayed too long; even so, he keeps an eye on her and if her partner doesn't come soon, he excuses himself to the girl he is dancing with and invites her to join them until the other young man arrives.

You have asked other questions in this letter which may be answered by my "Sub-Deb Questionnaire"; but I cannot give more space here to these answers. Send me self-addressed envelope for this leaflet.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I AM going to Nevada the middle of next month and I do not know just what to wear. I am going by train to visit a relative. Do you think it would be all right to take just one dress on the train? It will take two days for the trip.

What kind of shoes shall I wear? I have gray flannel shoes, gray and dark blue hats. I want to be dressed right and, as I never do any traveling by train, I am a little uncertain of the needs. I thought I might change to a little printed voile the second day on the train, or a string or two, or the second day and change back before arriving.

I am 35 and would appreciate anything you might suggest.

MRS. E. P.

I think you will be very much more comfortable if you have with you a change or two for the train. Sitting long in cloth suit or frock is not very comfortable and makes them, besides, look a little travel-worn when you arrive. You might have a lightweight suit with a dress in soft material, printed crepe or the voile, for hot days and change back before arriving. You will, of course, carry a warm coat for later use. If you travel as so many do now with several pieces of luggage, instead of trunk and bag, or two bags, you can adapt yourself very easily, en route, to changes in weather.

Your gray shoes (or blue or black) and your blue hat, with accessories to match either hat or shoes, will be best.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I AM "Happy," the gent with the bad heart. I want to say to you in my best way, "Thanks for your answer; you are swell!" How you have dug into me, reached the very sore spots—and how new everything looks now, I can never express in words!

I would like to know you, but I wouldn't want you to know me, so we'll have to stay on as we are. May I write again in years to come and tell you how I am getting along? Having you so interested in my case, as you must be by your wonderful answer, makes me quite happy! You are doing wonders in your column, Mrs. Carr, and I want to thank you again for your help to me, from the bottom of my heart.

Of course I shall be glad to hear from you at any time; this kind of response to my efforts to help is the greatest inspiration I have.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an address and stamped envelope for personal reply.

The Originality of Chippendale Chairs

By Elizabeth Boykin

WE have been digging around a lot lately for choices tidbits about that remarkable gentleman and cabinet maker of the 18th century England, Thomas Chippendale. And yesterday we ran across this paragraph in one of Sarah Lockwood's books, "Chippendale was apparently born to the exultation of the martinet, the soul of the country gentleman of his time. In that day of portraits there was no more perfect portrait of the English Squire than one of Chippendale's chairs; handsomely upholstered, stout in the legs, broad in the seat, straight in the back and square in the shoulders."

Chippendale was certainly the most versatile and prolific of furniture makers, and his designs have a distinguishing individuality about them that survives generations of copying. The first important worker in mahogany, a new wood when he came first to London, he took his inspiration where he found it—from the Queen Anne period, from the continentals, from the Chinese. But quite always, his hand upon it shaped it to his own originality. Sometimes he used a straight squared leg; sometimes he used a carved cabriole leg ending in the ball and claw foot. He used ladder backs, the ribbed, vase-shaped backs intricately carved and interlaced, fretwork backs with a Chinese accent, all decisively Chippendale. He ranged from extreme simplicity to utmost elaboration in his work. Not quite always, but nearly always the Chippendale chair has a cupid's bow top-line of the back. When it doesn't, then it is straight across. It's very rare to see a Chippendale chair with a down curve at the top.

But learn about Chippendale chairs by studying those for 30 years. Get Lavoptik today (with free eye-cup). All druggists.

NEVER NEGLECT YOUR FEET

By Elizabeth Boykin

No one should ever neglect the care of their feet. A pair of healthy feet save a lot of money. And here is something that does give real rest.

Simply go to your drugstore and get some Ice Mint. Use it for one day and see if this isn't the greatest little package of foot joy you ever saw.

Ice Mint prevents foot odor, keeps the feet cool and comfortable, relieves the stinging pain of corns and calluses and every person who has to walk or stand very long will appreciate how good it makes the feet feel. Try it once and give your poor, tired, aching feet the treat of their lives.

You will like the way Ice Mint works. It gives you a cooling comfort that brings to your feet; even a new pair of shoes won't bother you. Just one day's use will prove it.

FAVORITE WIFE

Terry, Much Dispirited, Tells Doris He Is Fired From His Petty Job—They Plan on the Money She Has.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE.

"LISTEN," Terry said, standing quite still, actually unmoved by her nearness and dearness. I've lost my job. Fired, with a week's pay!"—he pulled out one of the hands that were thrust deep into his trousers pockets, and showed her three crumpled five-dollar bills and three ones.

She stared down at them, then took the hand and held it in both hers, while she counted the money: "Eighteen dollars! Is that a week's pay?"

Suddenly he flamed up at her astonishment.

"Why! What do you think I should get? A lot of fellows my age can't make 10 dollars a week."

"I never thought!"

He flamed up. "No, you don't think. I know that."

"Terry!" she exclaimed furiously.

And then something in his face breaking through its bitter anger, something infinitely wistful, and naive, and loving went straight to that new protectiveness welling up in her heart. She hadn't exclaimed in horror-struck sympathy about his losing this trifling but seemingly all-important job. How could she be so callous! Still, soft, still glowing—how could she?

"My poor pet. I'm so terribly sorry. Are you going to tell me why?"

"Old Canberry heard about you and me—dunno how. I haven't been careless," he said despairingly.

"But all that doesn't matter now—days!"

"All that does matter always, if a man's young, and poor as a church mouse. A poor young man's got to have what they call a 'character' in a firm like Canberry's. I told you that, once."

"—I didn't believe it."

"Believe it now."

"Oh, Terry, my precious!" Doris pulled his head down, kissed him, and felt his quick melting. "You'll get another job."

"You don't know what you're talking about, Doris."

"Is it so hard, dearest?"

"Terribly hard," he groaned.

"You see, I've never had a chance to specialize, and perhaps I haven't the brain, either."

"You've a packet of brains."

"No," he said in a strange, quiet voice, "I haven't. I've brains for life—but that isn't brains for business. I'm a dud at things. Old Canberry gave me the job just as a favor—went to school with an uncle of mine or something. I've got no one much belonging to me. You know that."

"All that doesn't matter."

"All that matters a lot when a fellow, like me, isn't anything out of the ordinary."

"You are out of the ordinary, my pet."

"No," he said. "And you don't understand. I was out of work a year after I left school—that un-ordinary dud fellow like me falls into over a thing like this. And well he may!"

"Thought not. Well, and then three years with old Canberry, and what with me trying my best and then being a useful left-hand bowler—you know, the night we first met. I'd been down in the country playing cricket for his village well, what with it all, I kept on his right side. But now..."

"Who told him?" she cried in passion.

"You never know. Perhaps the servants at your husband's place in St. James's know some one connected with the office; and..."

"Oh, I dunno. Does it matter? It makes no odds, anyway, I'm sunk."

"You're not! You're not!"

Rapid Change In Methods Of Education

By The Rev. J. F. Newton

NOT long ago there was a radio broadcast in which an American boy, an English boy, and a Polish boy told of the games they play, the lessons they learn, and the films they see.

All three boys put "Mutiny on the Bounty" among their favorite motion pictures. Many of the same actors were equally well known by all three, George Arliss, Shirley Temple and others.

Truly it is a picture-minded generation, and it illustrates the three stages of education. We take so many things for granted, as a matter of course, that we do not see them.

For ages all education was by the spoken word. There were a few manuscript books but few could either possess them or read them. In those days nearly all teaching was oral.

Then came the invention of printing, and the Bible and other books could be read by the people, as well as heard. The result was, first, the Revival of Learning, then the Reformation.

Today we have two inventions almost as epoch-making as the printing press—the motion picture and the radio. Swiftly they are changing educational methods.

The cinema, as the English call it, will soon be as necessary in schools and colleges as books. In many places it is already so, both in England and America, and also in Poland.

The church, too, is adapting itself to the changed methods, employing not only the spoken word but the picture. It speaks to the people, as at Pentecost, in the language wherein they were born.

In the end nothing can take the place of oral teaching in school, or of preaching in church, but both will be wise if they appeal to all the senses in our picture-minded age.

SUNDAY DINNER MENU

By Gladys T. Lang

CREAM OF FRESH ASPARAGUS SOUP.

ROAST SPRING LAMB.

GREEN PEAS, FRENCH STYLE.

BROWN POTATOES.

MINTED TOMATO SALAD.

Cream of Fresh Asparagus Soup.

Three bunches of small fresh asparagus.

One pint of veal or chicken stock.

One sliced onion.

One bay leaf.

Outside stalks of celery.

Two tablespoons of butter.

One tablespoon flour.

One quart milk.

One cup cream.

Salt, pepper and paprika.

Remove tips from asparagus and slice thinly. Peel and cut up stalks.

Cook the onion, bay leaf, celery and cut-up asparagus stalks with stock until tender, then rub through a coarse sieve. Melt the butter, stir in the flour and gradually pour on the milk and cream, stirring until smooth. Combine with the first mixture, heat but do not let boil. Have the sliced tips cooked until tender in a little milk and add to the soup. Season the last thing with salt, pepper and paprika.

Roast Spring Lamb.

Wipe a hindquarter of lamb with a damp cloth. Place in a roasting pan, salt and pepper and sprinkle with one tablespoon of crushed thyme and squeeze the juice of one lemon over top. Place in a hot oven covered, and for a six-pound roast cook for two hours; add one cup of water, reduce heat and let cook for one hour longer. Baste frequently. Remove roast and take off excess fat.

Mix two tablespoons of cornstarch with one-half cup of cold water and stir into pan with two cups of hot water. Let boil, stirring constantly for five minutes or until thickened and clear.

Green Peas, French Style.

One pint of hulled peas.

Two tablespoons butter.

One-half cup water.

One cup shredded lettuce.

One teaspoon sugar.

One whole onion.

Salt and pepper.

Wash and drain the peas and cover with the cold water, one tablespoon of butter, then onion and lettuce and seasonings. Let simmer until peas are tender; remove onion and lettuce and drain. Add the remaining tablespoon of butter and stir until coated.

Minted Tomato Salad.

Rub the salad bowl with a split clove of garlic. Mix together sliced peeled tomatoes, one cup of finely cut up mint and torn lettuce. Over all pour a dressing made with two tablespoons of olive oil, two tablespoons of lemon juice, one tablespoon of tarragon vinegar, salt, pepper and paprika and one-half cup of grated cucumber. Toss together until well blended.

Tropical Pie.

One-half cup lard.

One-half teaspoon salt.

One and one-half cups flour.

Ice water.

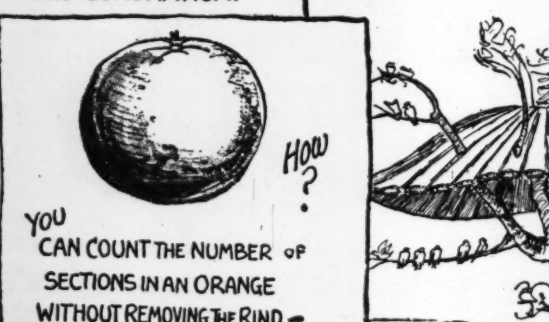

Sift the salt and flour. Cut in the lard. Stir in just enough ice water to hold the dry ingredients together. Roll out and cover outside of pie pan. Bake in a quick oven to a nice brown. Remove from tin and fill with the following mixture.

Beat the yolks of three eggs light. Add one cup of sugar which is mixed three level tablespoons of cornstarch, one and a half cups of unsweetened pineapple juice, the juice of one lime and the juice and grated rind of one-half lemon. Add a pinch of salt. Let cook in the double boiler until thickened. Remove from stove and stir in one tablespoon of butter and mix in one-half cup of filled sultana raisins. Cool and fill the baked pastry shell. Cover with a meringue made by adding very gradually four tablespoons of sugar to two stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in slow oven to nicely brown.

HINDENBURG FIRE VERY MYSTERIOUS, DR. ECKENER SAYS

Builder Testifies Spark Must Have Ignited Hydrogen, but Much Is Still Unexplained.

CANNOT ACCOUNT FOR FREE GAS AFT

But Suggests Sudden Strain May Have Snapped Wire Which Punctured One of the Dirigible's Cells.

By the Associated Press.
LAKEHURST, N. J., May 22.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran master of dirigibles, testified today the Hindenburg disaster was "extremely mysterious."
He gave the Commerce Department Investigating Board his opinion that a spark of static electricity ignited free hydrogen in her stern and caused her flaming destruction, but went on to say: "I am convinced by a static spark as we have assumed in theory."
The static spark, he said, apparently stabbed down from the air masses above the dirigible. These air masses, he said, probably had acquired a higher voltage than the Hindenburg because of the appearance of a "tail" of the thunderstorm which delayed the ship's landing.

Only Possible Explanation.
Dr. Eckener was admittedly at a loss to explain the sudden presence of the free hydrogen in the tail of the ship. The only possible explanation he could offer, he said, for the leak was that a sharp turn of the ship in landing maneuvers caused a great structural tension, especially near the tail, and a wire snapped, puncturing a gas cell.
He rejected as "absolutely impossible" the theory that engine sparks could have ignited the gas, and dismissed ball lightning as "the least probable" of causes.
Another opinion that was improbable engine sparks or lightning sent the Hindenburg to a flaming destruction was given yesterday by the German builder of the airship but as to the real cause he said "a definite conclusion I cannot draw as yet."

First of the German delegation of experts called to testify before the Department of Commerce Board of Inquiry into the dirigible disaster, Dr. Ludwig Duerr, a pioneer in airship building, went into technical detail to explain why he discounted certain theories as to the cause.
Asked about static electricity, he said he did not think it could have contributed to the fire if there were free gas, he told the board.

Helium vs. Hydrogen.
The advantages of helium over hydrogen in airship use were described by Commander Jesse L. Kenworthy, executive officer of the naval air station, taking the stand as the hearing continued last night.
Once on the American airship Akron a short circuit set fire to a gas cell, he said, but the helium itself immediately extinguished the fire. The Akron broke up over the Atlantic Ocean in 1933, with only four survivors.

Kenworthy, once commander of the Macon, American airship lost in the Pacific Ocean in 1935, said that on that ship he always touched a doorknob which discharged static electricity in his body with a visible spark before he walked along the catwalk where gasoline was stored.
The officer, stationed in the mooring circle for the Hindenburg landing, said he saw a burst of flame at the top of the ship, forward of the landing edge of the upper fin and there was "a perceptible interval" before the flame involved the entire after portion. The explosion, which came later than he expected, was not violent, he said.
Dr. Duerr, drawing on 38 years' experience in dirigible construction beginning with Count Zeppelin, declared his belief that exhaust sparks ignited the inflammable hydrogen used in the Hindenburg because the exhaust pipe temperature of the motors was far below the combustion point for hydrogen.

Severe Storms in Germany.
By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, May 22.—Three persons were killed, many orchards were destroyed and thousands of homes were damaged today in wild hail and rain storms which swept Central and Southern Germany. Wind-tripped large trees in some districts. Train service was interrupted when cloudbursts washed out stretches of track.
